

Contents

Acknowledgments	page viii
Abbreviations and main primary texts	x
Introduction	I
1 The country of world citizens	I
2 Overview of this book	4
3 A few words on the historical and political context	9
I Kant and Wieland on moral cosmopolitanism and patriotism	13
1 Introduction	13
2 Moral cosmopolitanism in the works of Wieland and Kant	15
3 The alleged incompatibility of cosmopolitanism and patriotism	19
4 Wieland's defense of cosmopolitanism and patriotism	22
5 Kant on cosmopolitan patriotism	26
6 The "danger" of cosmopolitanism	34
7 Cosmopolitanism and cosmopolitics	38
2 Kant and Cloots on global peace	40
1 Cloots' challenge	40
2 The development of Kant's theory of international relations	44
3 The potential despotism of a coercively established world state	50
4 Federalism and international right	58
5 The ahistorical nature of Cloots' approach	63
6 History and the process toward perpetual peace	65
3 Kant's concept of cosmopolitan right	72
1 Introduction	72
2 The scope and content of cosmopolitan right	74
3 The justification of cosmopolitan right	81
4 The problem of institutionalization	86

4	Kant and Forster on race, culture, and cosmopolitanism	92
1	Introduction	92
2	Kant's early views and his 1785 essay on race	96
3	Forster's reaction in "Something More on the Human Races"	102
4	Kant's reply: race, global migration, and cosmopolitanism	103
5	Forster's reaction to Kant's reply and his defense of cultural diversity	107
6	Kant's second thoughts on race	111
7	Kant on Judaism and national character	117
8	Kant on the value of cultural diversity	120
5	Kant and Hegewisch on the freedom of international trade	124
1	Introduction	124
2	The context of Hegewisch's defense of free trade	125
3	Hegewisch's arguments in favor of a world-wide free market	127
4	Problems with Hegewisch's view	132
5	Kant on the spirit of trade	134
6	Kant and free trade	136
7	Trade and justice within the state	139
8	Kant and the background conditions for just international trade	145
6	Kant and Novalis on the development of a cosmopolitan community	149
1	Introduction	149
2	Romantic cosmopolitanism	151
3	Novalis on individual Bildung and world citizenship	155
4	Spirituality or the world: Novalis' "Christianity or Europe"	158
5	From Novalis to Kant	160
6	Kant on the ideal of a moral world	161
7	Kant on the feasibility of the moral cosmopolitan ideal	163
8	Hope and progress	174
7	Kant's cosmopolitanism and current philosophical debates	177
1	Introduction	177
2	Kant's changing cosmopolitanism: a brief summary	178
3	"Alle Menschen werden Brüder": cosmopolitanism, racism, and sexism	181
4	The compatibility of cosmopolitanism and patriotism	183
5	"Following Kant's lead" in current international political philosophy	187
6	Cosmopolitan equality and the plurality of states	193

7	On defining cosmopolitanism	197
8	Conclusion	199
Bibliography		201
Index		212