

ografie;

Contents

ustralia

Acknowledgements ix

ANDREW MYCOCK, SHANTI SUMARTOJO AND BEN WELLINGS

memo-

llective

aland.

tojo,

'The centenary to end all centenaries':
The Great War, Nation and Commemoration I

PART I War and Memory in a 'Post-national' Era 25

JOHN HUTCHINSON

National Commemoration after the 'Second Thirty Years' War' 27

n.

BEN WELLINGS

Lest You Forget: Memory and Australian Nationalism in a Global Era 45

ROGER HILLMAN

From No Man's Land to Transnational Spaces:
The Representation of Great War Memory in Film 61

PART II Commemoration and the Politics of National Belonging 79

FRANK BONGIORNO

Anzac and the Politics of Inclusion 81

ANDREW MYCOCK

The Politics of the Great War Centenary in the United Kingdom 99

JAMES W. MCAULEY

Divergent Memories: Remembering and Forgetting the Great War in Loyalist and Nationalist Ireland 119

LAURENCE VAN YPERSELE

The Great War in Belgian Memories: From Unanimity to Divergence 133

PART III Mobilizing the Great War 149

MARK MCKENNA

Keeping in Step: The Anzac 'Resurgence' and
'Military Heritage' in Australia and New Zealand 151

MATTHEW GRAVES

Memorial Diplomacy in Franco-Australian Relations 169

ELIZABETH RECHNIEWSKI

Contested Sites of Memory: Commemorating Wars and Warriors in New Caledonia 189

MATTHEW STIBBE

Remembering, Commemorating and (Re)fighting the Great War in Germany from 1919 to the Present Day 205

PAI

SAI

Th

Ne

GU

Mt

on

CH

Wa

in]

RO

'A]

the

in t

SH.

An

Au

No

Inc

PART IV Locations of Commemoration 223

SARAH CHRISTIE

The Sinking of the Marquette: Gender, Nationalism and
New Zealand's Great War Remembrance 225

GUY HANSEN

Museums and the Great War: A Curator's Perspective on the History of Anzac 243

CHRISTINE CADOT

Wars Afterwards: The Repression of the Great War
in European Collective Memory 259

ROMAIN FATHI

'A Piece of Australia in France': Australian Authorities and the Commemoration of Anzac Day at Villers-Bretonneux
in the Last Decade 273

SHANTI SUMARTOJO

Anzac Kinship and National Identity on the Australian Remembrance Trail 291

Notes on Contributors 307

Index 311