

1	Introduction: Engendering Local Democracy Research	7
1.1	Overview: Panchayati Raj	10
1.2	Anthropology of Democracy	16
1.3	Appropriating State Intervention	20
1.4	Panchayats as Political Arena of Analysis	22
1.5	Engendering Local Democracy Research	25
2	Ethnographic Fieldwork in Rural Northern India	30
2.1	Comparative Research: Himachal and Uttar Pradesh	30
2.2	Research Process	35
2.3	Biographical Methods	38
3	Political Trajectories: Negotiating Local Democracy	44
3.1	Political Trajectories Part I: UTTAR PRADESH	48
3.1.1	Nobody will Accept a Pradhan in Ghunghat MANJU RAI	49
3.1.2	My House Has Become Like a Court BHAGWATI DEVI	84
3.1.3	Netai Chachi - Leader Aunty SARASI DEVI	110
3.2	Political Trajectories Part II: HIMACHAL PRADESH	135
3.2.1	“Crack-wali” - Social Construction of Ignorance NAPO DEVI	137
3.2.2	Countering the Establishment BHARKA DEVI	179
3.2.3	From “Hit the Pot” to Hit it Big VANDANA DEVI	208
3.2.4	I Am Like a Fish in Water PROMILA THAKUR	238

4	Vertical and Horizontal Relations of Support	282
4.1	Kinship	284
4.2	Members of Local Women's Groups	294
4.3	Patrons	298
4.4	Politicians	302
4.5	Local Bureaucrats	310
4.6	NGO Staff	313
5	Gendered Political Spaces	317
5.1	Creation of Gendered Political Spaces	317
5.2	Shifting Boundaries: Reinterpreting Gendered Locales	320
5.3	Negotiating the Odds: Resources and Gender Relations	325
6	The Mantra of Democracy	332
6.1	Vernacularising the Mantra of Democracy	333
6.2	Localising Democracy	334
6.3	Translating Democracy	336
6.4	Repetition with a Difference?	337
7	Snakes and Ladders	356
	CONCLUSIONS: Politics Embedded	362
	Abbreviations	367
	Glossary	368
	References	375