

Table of contents

Acknowledgments	vi
Introduction	1
Chapter 1 The broad picture (I).....	7
1 The song Ndalb irbbi	7
2 Episode, strophe, stanza, metrical pattern	13
3 Text and tune; time grids.....	18
4 The autonomy of the metrical component.....	23
5 The structure of the text: four-mora feet and straight MPs	32
6 Aligning the text with the tune: BEAT	40
Chapter 2 The broad picture (II).....	48
1 The traditional TB singing idiom	48
2 Transcription	50
3 Syllables in Tashlhiyt verse.....	53
4 Postfinal segments.....	58
5 Flatted syllables.....	61
6 FSVs (Final Stopgap Vowels).....	63
7 Lalay-formulas	68
8 Musical scores; tactus beats	73
9 Symmetrical stanzas	78
Chapter 3 Straight metrical patterns.....	81
1 A list of straight MPs.....	81
2 Complementarity	88
3 Line-internal silent syllables	98
4 L4m metrical patterns that violate condition ALTERN.....	102
5 Metrical patterns with alternate foot structures.....	104
Chapter 4 Prosodic continuity	107
1 Pauses and word ends.....	110
2 Alatif , the main facts.....	117

3	Enjambments, intraword and intrasyllabic	126
4	Words, lines and periods	132
5	Free rhythm as a means of avoiding pauses inside words.....	134
6	Multi-line periods without intraword enjambments	136
7	Discrepancies between lineation and musical structure	143
8	Concluding remarks	148
Chapter 5 Text-to-tune alignment at the syllable level		151
1	The syllabic irrelevance of schwa in TB	153
2	Schwa placement, the basic pattern.....	157
3	Schwa-less syllables and syllable shift.....	159
4	Syllable splitting.....	164
5	Segments vs. pitch-bearing elements	167
6	Schwas adjacent to pauses.....	172
7	Schwa in clusters which are voiceless or homorganic	175
8	Conclusion.....	177
Appendices
1	Song 1	183
2	Song 2.....	193
3	Song 3.....	209
4	Song 4.....	223
5	Song 5.....	232
6	Song 6.....	238
7	Song 7.....	245
8	Scansion of the epigraph	253
9	Examples (23)-(26) in Chapter 2.....	254
10	Jouad's proposal for grouping syllables.....	255
11	The enclosed CD	259
References		265
Index.....		272