

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Preface .....                                                                                                                                  | 9   |
| Part One Media, Migrants, and Human Rights                                                                                              |     |
| Gevisa La RoccaChapter One Academics' Sense of Migration .....                                                               | 13  |
| Graziella Di Marco, Zira Hichy, and Valentina GiuffridaChapter Two Secularism, Community Boundaries Loss, and Prejudice .... | 19  |
| Roberto-Luciano BarbeitoChapter Three Facing Xenophobic Populism through DemocraticInnovation .....                      | 33  |
| Lucia CorsoChapter Four Migration and Philosophy of Law .....                                                                | 63  |
| Fabio AielloChapter Five Refugees and Asylum Seekers: An Assessment Survey .....                                             | 75  |
| Part Two Vulnerability and Human Rights                                                                                                 |     |
| Liborailinda Ardizzone and Roberto Di MariaChapter Six Brief Reflections on "Vulnerability" .....                            | 91  |
| Giuseppina TalamoChapter Seven Migration, Climate Change and EnvironmentalDegradation .....                              | 101 |
| Ignazia BartholiniChapter Eight Manifold Instances of Proximity Violence .....                                               | 115 |
| Thea GiacobbeChapter Nine Women trafficking: a case of sexual exploitation .....                                             | 129 |

Yosi McIntire

|                                                           |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Ten Asylum at the Southern US Border ..... | 139 |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Nicola Malizia and Guglielmo Dinicolò

|                                                                                 |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Eleven The Case of Maltese “Detention Centers”: An Analysis .... | 147 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Nikos Kourachanis

|                                                                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twelve Forms of Housing and Social Policies for AsylumSeekers in Greece ..... | 167 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Maria Bottiglieri

|                                                                                          |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Thirteen Decentralised Cooperation and Global Educationin Turin ..... | 187 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Part Three Migrations in the Media System

Antonia Cava, Gino Frezza and Gevisa La Rocca

|                                                                                   |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Fourteen New Migrations in the Media CommunicationSystem ..... | 205 |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Lucia Chiurco

|                                                                               |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Fifteen Immigration and Discrimination: A Focus on Italy ..... | 213 |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Francesco Pira

|                                                                               |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Sixteen Fake News Interference on Media and Social Media ..... | 239 |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Maria Fobert Veutro

|                                                                                             |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Seventeen Migration Images: in Newspapers of DifferentOrientations ..... | 255 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Stefania Fragapane and Ariela Mortara

|                                                                                            |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Eighteen Migration & Social Media: the Closure of ItalianHarbours ..... | 279 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Chiara Pasanisi

|                                                                          |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Nineteen Limits and Possibilities of Social Theatre ..... | 299 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Melissa Moralli, Roberta Paltrinieri and Paola Parmiggiani

|                                                                                  |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty Performing Arts, Diversity and the Right to the City ..... | 315 |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Benedetta Turco

|                           |                                           |     |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-One | Cohousing to Get to Know Each Other ..... | 333 |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----|

Gabriella Polizzi

|                           |                                                                                    |     |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Two | Managing Non-verbal Communication toFacilitate the Reception of Migrants ..... | 349 |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Domenico Carzo, Antonia Cava and Gaetana Cava

|                             |                                                |     |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Three | Consumption of Culture by Young Migrants ..... | 363 |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----|

Marco Centorrino and Lilia Pellegrino

|                            |                                                                 |     |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Four | The Relationship Between School andImmigrant Families ..... | 381 |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Alessandro Cutrona

|                            |                                                                 |     |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Five | “The Other” in the perspective of Moravia andPasolini ..... | 399 |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Rolando Marini

|                           |                                                                  |     |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Six | Immigration Emergencies: a Possible Praise tothe Media ..... | 417 |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Part Four Additional Points

Michele Nicotra

|                             |                                                               |     |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Seven | Imagery Techniques in Restructuring SocialPrejudice ..... | 439 |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

Gevisa La Rocca and Tiziana Ramaci

|                             |                                                             |     |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Twenty-Eight | Employees Working with Refugees andAsylum Seekers ..... | 445 |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|

|                         |     |
|-------------------------|-----|
| About the Authors ..... | 463 |
|-------------------------|-----|