

Contents

---

---

---

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| PREFACE                                   | ix  |
| PART I. THE BACKGROUND                    |     |
| 1. Some Theoretical Issues                | 3   |
| 2. The Village                            | 12  |
| 3. Economy and Property                   | 20  |
| PART II. THE MÉNAGE                |     |
| 4. The Meaning of Ménage           | 31  |
| 5. Economic Gastronomy                    | 38  |
| 6. Women in Commerce                      | 47  |
| 7. Social Gastronomy                      | 55  |
| 8. Ritual Gastronomy                      | 65  |
| PART III. FAMILY, FRIENDS, AND ASSOCIATES |     |
| 9. Social Relations in Bruson             | 77  |
| 10. Family and Famille             | 85  |
| 11. Family and Responsibility             | 95  |
| 12. Inheritance                           | 100 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 13. A Case Study in Inheritance                    | 107 |
| 14. Friendship                                     | 118 |
| 15. Special-Purpose Groups                         | 128 |
|    |     |
| PART IV. INDIVIDUAL AND COMMUNITY                  |     |
|    |     |
| 16. The Ideology of Uniqueness                     | 141 |
| 17. The "Little Community"                         | 153 |
| 18. The Part-Society Concept                       | 164 |
| 19. Cultural Pluralism and PoliticalFederalism | 170 |
| 20. The Nested Political System                    | 184 |
| 21. Continuity and Change                          | 194 |
|    |     |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY                                       | 203 |
|    |     |
| INDEX  | 209 |