

Contents

---

Acknowledgments	ix
Part I INTRODUCTION
1. A Handful of Gendarmes, Two Worlds, and the Frontier Between	3
2. A History of the Gendarmerie in Niger	19
3. A Story of a Murder, No Traces, and Nothing to Report	41
Part II PRODUCING FORM, OR BUREAUCRATIC SENSES
4. The Ear   Listening to Noise, Hearing Cases	49
5. The Eye   Surveillance and the Problem of “Seeing Things”	61
6. The Pen   Report Writing and Bureaucratic Aesthetics	76
Part III POLICING LIFE, OR BUREAUCRATIC DRAMA
7. Drama Work	93
8. Repair Work	109
9. Tragic Work	125
Postscript: On the Significance of the Frontier	139
Notes	145
Bibliography	153
Index	171