

Contents

Introduction	7
--------------	---

European Solidarity

Philippe Van Parijs: The Euro-Dividend	13
Lisa Herzog: Companies should be run by employees, and the EU should encourage such new forms of cooperate governance	21
Juri Viehoff: Introduce a European Memory Day	31
Nicholas Vrousalis: The EU should institute a statutory maximum 35-hour workweek for all European workers	41

Europe and its Money

Peter Dietsch: The European Central Bank distributes money. It should be mandated to do so fairly.	53
Clément Fontan, Joakim Sandberg: The European Union should protect its people before its banks	61
Gabriel Wollner: Three cheers for a financial transaction tax	69
Jens van 't Klooster: A parliament for the eurozone	77
Marco Meyer: How to deal with persistent trade imbalances within the eurozone	87

Europe's Rules

Mara-Daria Cojocaru: Europe should end factory farming	99
Ingrid Robeyns: For a EU-wide tax on air travel to fight climate change	109
Kalypso Nicolaïdis: Sustainable integration: The silver lining of a democratically challenged EU	117
Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen: The EU and age discrimination: Abolish mandatory retirement!	127

Europe and the World

Cécile Fabre: In defence of EU armed forces	139
David Rodin: Human rights must be the basis for the use of force by EU member states	147
Peter Niesen, Markus Patberg: Making Brexit Reversible	157
Mark Alfano: Europe has a responsibility to help island nations hit hardest by climate change	165
Boudewijn de Bruin: The EU is not an end in itself, but a means to peace	173

Europe's Constitution

Rainer Forst: Toleration in the European Union	185
Miriam Ronzoni: The European Parliament should be elected on transnational lists	193
Richard Bellamy: National parliaments should have a greater role in EU decision-making	203
Jakub Kloc-Konkołowicz: Circles of solidarity – or how to reconcile the European and the national	211
Helder De Schutter: The EU should erect a language academy for European English	221
Matthew Braham, Martin van Hees: The project of freedom: Unity in diversity	231
The Twelve Stars Initiative	239