

CONTENTS

Notes on contributors	viii
Acknowledgements	x
 1 Introduction. Comparative constitutional change: a new academic field Xenophon Contiades and Alkmene Fotiadou	 1
 PART I The study of comparative constitutional change: theoretical and methodological aspects	 23
 2 Comparative methodology and constitutional change Jaakko Husa	 25
 3 Order from chaos? Typologies and models of constitutional change Oran Doyle	 45
 4 Constitutional endurance Tom Ginsburg	 61
 5 Constitutional amendment versus constitutional replacement: an empirical comparison David S. Law and Ryan Whalen	 74
 6 Varieties of liberal constitutionalism Mark Tushnet	 101

PART II
Formal constitutional change	115
7 Formal amendment rules: functions and design Richard Albert	117
8 Constitutional design through amendment Manfred Stelzer	136
9 The uses and abuses of constitutional unamendability Yaniv Roznai	150
10 Federalism and constitutional change Nathalie Behnke and Arthur Benz	167
11 Participatory constitutional change: constitutional referendums Eoin Carolan	182
PART III
Informal constitutional change	199
12 Political practice and constitutional change David Feldman	201
13 Judge-made constitutional change Joel I. Colón-Ríos	217
14 Global values, international organizations and constitutional change Helle Krunke	231
15 Crises, emergencies and constitutional change Giacomo Delledonne	245
16 The material study of constitutional change Marco Goldoni and Tarik Olcay	261
PART IV
Contemporary challenges in the theory and practice of comparative constitutional change	275
17 Constituent power and European constitutionalism Chris Thornhill	277

Contents

18	Populism and constitutional change Paul Blokker	294
19	The democratic backsliding in the European Union and the challenge of constitutional design Tomasz Tadeusz Koncewicz	312
20	Constitution and self-determination Zoran Oklopčić	328
21	Gender in comparative constitutional change Silvia Suteu	345
PART V
	Case studies: distinct profiles of constitutional change	367
22	The future of UK constitutional law Robert Blackburn	369
23	Constitutional change in Australia: the paradox of the frozen continent Elisa Arcioni and Adrienne Stone	388
24	Preservationist constitutional change in Latin America: the cases of Chile and Brazil Juliano Zaiden Benvindo	403
25	Informal constitutional change in unlikely places: the case of South Africa James Fowkes	421
26	Constitutional changes in Japan Yasuo Hasebe	435
	Index	449