

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface to the second edition	xi
Abbreviations and symbols	xiii
1 Introduction and Background	1
1.1 Introductory remarks	1
1.2 The Nyakyusa language and its speakers	1
1.2.1 Geography and demography	1
1.2.2 On the name Nyakyusa	2
1.2.3 Previous linguistic research	3
1.2.4 Nyakyusa within Bantu	6
1.2.5 Dialects and variety described	8
1.3 Data collection	11
1.4 Theoretical framework	13
1.4.1 Overview	13
1.4.2 Tense and grammatical aspect	14
1.4.3 Inherent temporal structure of the verb	19
1.4.4 Tense and grammatical aspect in discourse	22
2 Grammatical sketch	29
2.1 Typological overview	29
2.2 Basic phonology	30
2.2.1 Vowels and syllables	30
2.2.2 Consonants	35
2.2.3 Suprasegmentals	38
2.3 Nouns and noun phrase	39
2.3.1 Noun classes	39
2.3.2 Nominal morphology	43
2.3.3 Demonstratives and pronominals	45
2.4 Basic syntax	47

3	Structure of the verb	51
3.1	Introduction	51
3.2	Phonological structure of verbal morphemes	51
3.3	Linear morphological structure of the finite verb	52
3.3.1	The pre-initial slot	53
3.3.2	The initial slot	54
3.3.3	The post-initial slot	59
3.3.4	The pre-radical slot	60
3.3.5	The radical slot	65
3.3.6	The pre-final slot	65
3.3.7	The final slot	65
3.3.8	The post-final slot	66
3.4	Root, base and stem	77
4	Verbal Derivation	79
4.1	Introduction	79
4.2	Verbal extensions	80
4.2.1	Morphophonology of verbal extensions	80
4.2.2	Causative 1	85
4.2.3	Causative 2	86
4.2.4	The relationship between the two causatives	87
4.2.5	Reciprocal/Associative	89
4.2.6	Applicative	92
4.2.7	Productive Passive	94
4.2.8	Fossilized Passive	97
4.2.9	Neuter	99
4.2.10	Intensive	100
4.2.11	Separative	101
4.2.12	Tentive	102
4.2.13	Positional	103
4.2.14	Impositive	104
4.2.15	Extensive	105
4.3	Combinations of verbal extensions	106
4.3.1	Morpheme order	106
4.3.2	Complex derivations: pluractional	108
4.3.3	Applicativized causatives	109
4.4	Denominal verbs	110
4.5	Partial reduplication	111

5	Verb categorization	113
5.1	Introduction	113
5.2	Diagnostic criteria	115
5.3	Verb classes	118
5.3.1	Activities	118
5.3.2	Simple accomplishments	122
5.3.3	Transitional accomplishments	125
5.3.4	Transitional achievements	128
5.3.5	Resultative achievements	131
5.3.6	Other achievement classes	137
6	Tense and aspect constructions 1: present and past tense	141
6.1	Introduction	141
6.2	Overview of tense and aspect in Nyakyusa	141
6.3	Negation in Nyakyusa	142
6.4	Morphophonology of common TMA suffixes	144
6.4.1	Alternations of imperfective -aga	144
6.4.2	Perfective -ile and its variants	144
6.5	Synthetic present and past constructions	152
6.5.1	Simple present	152
6.5.2	Negative present	156
6.5.3	Present perfective	157
6.5.4	Negative present perfective	165
6.5.5	Past perfective	166
6.5.6	Negative past perfective	179
6.5.7	Past imperfective	180
6.5.8	Negative past imperfective	183
6.6	Periphrastic present and past constructions	184
6.6.1	Progressive	185
6.6.2	Persistent	186
6.6.3	Minor constructions	190
6.7	The present as non-past	192
6.7.1	Narrative present	193
6.7.2	Present tense in subordinate clauses	195
7	Tense and aspect constructions 2: narrative markers	209
7.1	Introduction	209
7.2	The two narrative markers: a comparison	209
7.2.1	On typologies of narrative markers	210

7.2.2	Licensing and dependency	211
7.2.3	Distribution in narrative discourse	214
7.2.4	Quantitative distribution	219
7.2.5	Functional differences	221
7.3	Narrative tense	221
7.3.1	Formal makeup	221
7.3.2	Temporal and aspectual semantics	222
7.3.3	Sequentiality of events	229
7.3.4	Summary	232
7.4	Subsecutive	233
7.4.1	Formal makeup	233
7.4.2	Restrictions on use	234
7.4.3	Semantics and basic textual function	234
7.4.4	Common occurrences	237
7.4.5	Tokens without strict temporal progression	243
7.4.6	Summary	246
8	Tense and aspect constructions 3: futurates	249
8.1	Introduction	249
8.2	Proclitic aa=	250
8.3	Proclitic (i) sa=	255
8.4	Proclitic naa=	257
8.5	Prospective/movement kwa INF	258
8.6	Indefinite future	260
8.6.1	Formal makeup	260
8.6.2	Meaning and use	261
8.6.3	A diachronic perspective	264
8.7	Prospective/Inceptive ja pa -INF	265
9	Mood and modal categories	267
9.1	Introduction	267
9.2	Imperative	267
9.3	Subjunctive	270
9.3.1	Uses of the subjunctive	271
9.3.2	Complex constructions involving the subjunctive	279
9.3.3	Distal/itive ka-	282
9.3.4	Negative Subjunctive	285
9.4	Desiderative	288
9.5	Modal future	292

9.6	Conditional ngali	299
10	Defective verbs, copulae and movement grams	303
10.1	Introduction	303
10.2	The copulae	303
10.2.1	Copula verbs	303
10.2.2	Copula use	305
10.2.3	Existential construction	308
10.2.4	Expression of predicative possession	310
10.3	tr 'say; think; do like'	311
10.4	Movement grams	317
10.4.1	(j) a 'go'	318
10.4.2	isa 'come'	320
11	Verbal nouns (infinitives)	323
11.1	Introduction	323
11.2	Structure and characteristics of verbal nouns	323
11.3	Verbal nouns and negation	324
11.4	Functions of verbal nouns	326
11.4.1	Arguments of auxiliaries, modal and motion verbs	326
11.4.2	Uses as converbs and related functions	328
	Appendix A: Overview of core TMA constructions	333
	Appendix B: Texts	339
B.1	Narrative: Crocodile and Monkey	339
B.2	Narrative: Hare and Skunk	343
B.3	Expository: The custom of dancing	352
	References	357
	Index	375
	Name index	375
	Language index	379
	Subject index	381