

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	ix
Note on transcription of Arabic terms	xi
Avant-propos: A guide to reading Traces of Violence	xiii
Preface: Blue flight terminal	xxiii
Counter-preface: Blues, flights, beginnings . . .	xxix
1 • Névralgique	1
Interruption: Neuralgia in the Goutte d'Or	22
2 • Graffs	42
Interruption: Graffiti, traces, and disappearance	57
3 • Operation vigilance	68
Interruption: "Vigilance is double-edged, to say the least"	83
4 • Learning with the body	89
Interruption: Give me your FAMAS	109
5 • Archive sorrow	113
Interruption: Listen to the passing of time	130
6 • A trace is the mark of something not there	138
Interruption: 3alesh? Why?	145
7 • "Where wounds are barely scarred over one is cut anew"	148
Interruption: Paris is an apparition, sharing visions	196

8 • The histories of these wounds	205
Interruption: Nervous activity	219

Acknowledgments	227
-----------------	-----

Glossary	231
----------	-----

Notes	235
-------	-----

References	257
------------	-----

Index	275
-------	-----