

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of contributors	xi
 Introduction	 1
HOWARD MORPHY AND ROBYN McKENZIE
 SECTION I
Making and remaking of collections	31
 1 Inalienable patrimony and museums: re-valuing the MacGregor collection	33
ANNA EDMUNDSON
 2 The emergence of value in the process of the Sámi repatriation: Bååstede	48
GRO WEEN
 3 Colonial collections in British military museums: of objects, materiality and sentiment	63
HENRIETTA LIDCHI AND NICOLE M. HARTWELL
 4 Rephotography as a value creation technology in the nineteenth century: collecting, reproducing and exchanging	81
CHRISTOPHER MORTON
 SECTION II
Creating value – inside and outside the museum	101
 5 Aboriginal secret-sacred objects, their values and future prospects	103
JASON M. GIBSON

6	Systems of value in Vanuatu: reflections on the Ambae textile complex	123
	LISSANT BOLTON
7	Displaying, creating and mobilizing value in a museum exhibition: Pacific Currents in Cambridge	138
	ANITA HERLE
8	The revaluation of historical collections by source communities: The string figures of Yirrkala	152
	ROBYN MCKENZIE
SECTION III
	Engagement and return	167
9	'Go throw it in the river', shifting values and the productive confusions of collaboration with museum collections	169
	JOSHUA A. BELL
10	Digital return of an ethnographic museum collection and value creation by an originating community in Baguia, Timor-Leste	190
	JOANNA BARRKMAN
11	Digital/object/beings and 3D replication in the intercultural museum context: have you socialized your clones?	207
	GWYNEIRA ISAAC
SECTION IV
	Indigenous agency	223
12	Value creation and museums from an Indigenous perspective	225
	JILDA ANDREWS
13	Yolŋu pathways to value creation in museum and archival collections: the work and journey of Joseph Gumbula	240
	JESSICA DE LARGY HEALY
14	Creating value through cultural capital: 'Witira Kanyila – "work as one to make it strong"'	260
	CHRISCHONA SCHMIDT	