

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments page vii

Table of Cases viii

1	Introduction	1
2	Foundational Moments	19
I	Introduction	19
II	Europe	20
II.1	The European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms	20
II.2	The Colonial Question	31
II.3	Judicialization	37
III	The Americas	44
III.1	The American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man	44
III.2	The Inter-American Commission	54
III.3	The American Convention and Court	65
IV	Africa	71
IV.1	The African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights	71
IV.2	The African Court	82
V	Conclusion	88
V.1	Europe	88
V.2	The Americas	90
V.3	Africa	92
3	Struggles	95
I	Introduction	95
II	Europe	95
II.1	The Triumph of the Individual Complainant	95

II.2	The Gradual Development of Jurisprudential Standards	98
II.3	Institutional Pressure and Reform	107
III	The Americas	120
III.1	The Adoption of an Assertive Approach	120
III.2	From Mass to Structural Violation	135
IV	Africa	152
IV.1	Early Challenges	152
IV.2	Coming to Grips with Violation as the Norm	160
V	Conclusion	173
V.1	Europe	173
V.2	The Americas	176
V.3	Africa	183
4	Comparisons	186
I	Introduction	186
II	Similar Dynamics	187
III	Alternative Approaches	194
III.1	The Judicial Model	196
III.2	The Strongly Integrated Dualist Model	202
III.3	The Weakly Integrated Dualist Model	207
III.4	Optimal System Design?	211
IV	Structural Context, Path Dependence, and Choice in Rights System Design	213
5	Conclusion	218
	Index	225