

Contents

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Acknowledgments | ix |
| Introduction | 1 |
| Part I Philosophical Description and Critique | |
| 1 The Philosophical Background of the Emerging Technoculture | 7 |
| 2 George Grant: Illuminating the Darkness as Darkness | 35 |
| 3 Hannah Arendt: Mortality and Natality | 57 |
| 4 Albert Borgmann: Devices and Desires | 81 |
| Part II Theological Construction | |
| Philosophical Critique and Theological Construction | 105 |
| 5 Confession: Admitting the Darkness as Darkness | 109 |
| 6 Repentance: The Renewing Possibilities of Second Births | 131 |
| 7 Amendment of Life: Desiring the Good | 159 |
| Part III Moral Engagement | |
| Theological Construction and Moral Engagement | 187 |
| 8 The Translucent Self In an Age of Transparency: Parasitic Self-Fulfillment | 191 |
| 9 Creation into Nothing: Nihilistic Power | 207 |
| 10 Disassembling the Other: Consuming Predation | 227 |
| Bibliography | 245 |
| Index | 253 |