

Contents

| | |
|---|-----------|
| Acknowledgements | xi |
| Introduction E. Ann Kaplan | 1 |
| PART ONE: The Postmodernism Debate | 11 |
| 1 Postmodernism and Consumer Society Fredric Jameson | 13 |
| 2 Feminism/Oedipus/Postmodernism: The Case of MTV E. Ann Kaplan | 30 |
| 3 Postmodernism and Cultural Analysis Today Dana Polan | 45 |
| 4 Potholders and Subincisions: On The Businessman , Fiskadoro , and Postmodern Paradise Fred Pfeil | 59 |
| 5 Urban Renaissance and the Spirit of Postmodernism Mike Davis | 79 |
| 6 What is at Stake in the Debate on Postmodernism? Warren Montag | 88 |

| | |
|---|-----|
| PART TWO: Postmodernism, Feminism and Popular Cultural Theory | 105 |
| 7 A Jury of their Peers: Marlene Gorris's A Question of Silence Linda Williams | 107 |
| 8 Mikhail Bakhtin and Left Cultural Critique Robert Stam | 116 |
| 9 Sliding Off the Stereotype: Gender Difference in the Future of Television William Galperin | 146 |
| 10 Poetry/Punk/Production: Some Recent Writing in LA David E. James | 163 |
| Notes on Contributors | 187 |