

Contents

List of tables	7
List of graphs	9
List of illustrations	11
Preface	15

PART ONE Themes and Problems

1 The aristocracy and the towns: ambivalence and ambiguity	21
2 The great provincial towns: confrontation and compromise	41
3 The holiday resorts: new towns, new opportunities	62

PART TWO The Calthorpes and Birmingham

4 Introduction: the landowners and the land, 1717–1810	81
5 The making of an 'aristocratic' suburb, 1810–1914	94
6 The superintendence of development, 1810–1914	109
7 Urban revenue and aristocratic aggrandisement, 1810–93	124
8 Patterns of management and problems of policy, 1810–93	136
9 The Calthorpes and Birmingham, 1810–68: a 'conservative interest' examined	147
10 Financial problems and managerial difficulties, c.1880–1922	159
11 External threats and internal weaknesses, c.1870–1914	175
12 The Calthorpes and Birmingham, 1868–1914: a 'conservative interest' in decline	187
13 The 'Belgravia' of Birmingham	198
14 Conclusion: 'The same way, but by different steps'	218

PART THREE The Devonshires and Eastbourne

15 Introduction: the landowners and the land, 1782–1849	229
16 The making of a high-class resort, 1849–1914	239
17 The superintendence of development, 1849–1914	254
18 The provision of amenities, 1849–1914	268
19 The making of a new town: outlay and income, 1849–91	285
20 Influence and control: the local oligarchy, 1849–91	299
21 Changed policy and improved fortunes, 1891–1914	321
22 Political conflict and social celebrity, 1891–1914	333
23 The 'Empress of Watering Places'	354
24 Internal difficulties and external threats, c.1890–1914	370
25 Conclusion: 'The Duke's town'	382

PART FOUR Interpretations and Perspectives

26	The impact of the aristocracy on Victorian cities	391
27	The aristocracy and the towns in the twentieth century	417

Appendices

A	Genealogical table of the Calthorpe family (simplified)	431
B	Composition of Lord Calthorpe's income, 1810–1910	432
C	Genealogical table of the Devonshire family (simplified)	433
D	The finances of the dukes of Devonshire, 1858–1931	434
	Note on sources	436
	Abbreviations	437
	Notes	438
	Index	481