

CONTENTS

Preface and acknowledgements	xiii
Abbreviations	xvii
Introduction	1
Post-secular Human Security	2
Structure of the book	5
 PART I
Reconceptualizing human security in a post-secular age	13
1 Globalization and identity after the financial crisis	15
The globalization debate: historical and intellectual development	17
Globalization, the nation-state and identity: major claims and developments	22
Main criticisms	28
Contemporary developments: digital diasporas, Occupy and the Arab Spring	34
Conclusion	35
 2 Provincializing post-secularism	40
Discourse ethics	41
The post-secular	44
Translation or assimilation?	47
Typologies of the secular	49

	The public sphere as a secularized space	52
	Conclusion	55
3	Reconceptualizing security: towards a Critical Human Security paradigm	62
	The 'Mortal God': the national security doctrine	65
	'Putting a hook in the nose of the Leviathan': from national security to Human Security	69
	Human security: critical perspectives	71
	Critical Human Security: emancipation as desecuritization	73
	Securitizing 'bare life': neo-liberal governmentality and human in/security after the financial crisis	76
	Conclusion	80
4	Desecularizing Human Security	86
	Beyond 'bare life'? Potentiality, empowerment and messianic immanence	87
	Desecularizing universality: human security as caritas	91
	Decolonizing human security	93
	Towards a new global ethic?	98
	Conclusion	102
PART II
	Sites of human insecurity	109
5	Emancipating zoe: securitization of the veil in France	111
	The end of multiculturalism? Migration and human in/security post-9/11	112
	L'affaire du foulard : the French headscarf ban	114
	The hijab as a Human Security issue: protecting and emancipating the veiled woman	117
	Disembodying the racialized religious subject	121
	Conclusion	124
6	Sarva Dharma Sambhava: religion and human in/security in South Asia	132
	'Thick' and 'thin': the colonial construction of 'religion'	133
	Spectres of Partition: communal violence in post-colonial South Asia	138
	The 'War on Terror' and human insecurity in South Asia	142
	Conclusion	146

7	Tabunka kyōsei? Ethno-nationalism and human insecurity in Japan	155
	A genealogy of Japanese ethno-religious nationalism	157
	The nihonjinron : the post-war secularization of Japanese ethno-nationalism	160
	‘Internal others’: human insecurity in multi-ethnic Japan	162
	Ganbarō Nippon : human insecurity and national identity after 3/11	167
	Conclusion	169
	Conclusion: to be human is not to be resilient	177
	Index	184