

Content

Chapter 1 Introduction
The Dynamics of Sonic Knowledge in European Metal History 7

Part 1 Theoretical Structures of Sonic Knowledge

Chapter 2 Prolegomena 25

Chapter 3 Narratives, Narrations, and Emplotment..... 36

Chapter 4 Identities and Identitary Practices..... 41

Chapter 5 Europeanness, Transnationalism, and Entanglement..... 47

Chapter 6 Time
The Album 57

Chapter 7 Space
The Tour..... 65

Chapter 8 Thinking Conceptually
The Pentagon of Sonic Knowledge Theory 73

Part 2 Albums, Tours, Events, and Practices
Empirical Examples of Sonic Knowledge in European Metal History

Chapter 9 The Construction of Metal’s Time Concept in Europe
Black Sabbath’s Debut Album (1970)..... 79

Chapter 10 Rendering New Space on Europe's Me(n)tal Map
Motörhead's 'Classic' Tours (1976–1982)	86
Chapter 11 Spawning the 1980s
Iron Maiden's The Number of the Beast (1982)	93
Chapter 12 Spatially Explicating Europe
Manowar's Hail to Europe Tour (1986)	101
Chapter 13 Slayer's Reign in Blood (1986)
A European Rereading in the 21st Century	106
Chapter 14 The Convergence of Space and Time as a Door-Opener to the 1990s
Mayhem's Concert in Leipzig (1990)	115
Chapter 15 How to Survive the 1990s
Pyogenesis' Journey through the Genres (1992–2015)	126
Chapter 16 Black Metal Goes Science
Temple of Oblivion's Traum und Trauma (2014)	134
Chapter 17 A Historian at a Newly Established European Extreme Metal Festival
Metal on the Hill (2016)	141
Chapter 18 Black Metal and a Medieval Castle
The Conjunction of Listening and Watching in a Historian's Mind (2016)	148
Chapter 19 Thinking Empirically
Weaving the Carpet of European Metal History	154
Chapter 20 Conclusion	159
 Figures and tables	 164
 References	 166
 Index	 181