

ENIGMATIC CHARMS

Medieval Arabic Block Printed Amulets in American and European Libraries and Museums

BY

KARL R. SCHAEFER

BRILL

LEIDEN • BOSTON
2006

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
The Historico-religious Context of Arabic Block Printing	7
The (Re)discovery of Arabic Block Printing	21
Calligraphy and the Issue of Dating the Arabic Block Prints	41

BLOCK PRINTED AMULETS IN EUROPEAN LIBRARIES AND MUSEUMS

Key to Transcriptions of Arabic Texts	55
Ägyptologisches Museum und Papyrussammlung Berlin	57
Cambridge University Library, Michaelides Collection	67
Cambridge University Library, Taylor-Schechter Geniza Collection	81
Chester Beatty Library, Dublin, Ireland	97
Gutenberg Museum, Mainz, Germany	103
Universitätsbibliothek Heidelberg, Institut für Papyrologie	111
John Rylands Library, University of Manchester	113
Österreichische Nationalbibliothek, Papyrussammlung	115
Bibliothèque Nationale et Universitaire de Strasbourg	157
Wren Library, Trinity College, Cambridge	163

BLOCK PRINTED AMULETS IN AMERICAN LIBRARIES AND MUSEUMS

Columbia University Library, Papyrus Collection	169
Lilly Library, Indiana University, Bloomington	177
Los Angeles County Museum of Art, The Madina Collection of Islamic Art, A Gift of Camilla Chandler Frost	181
Metropolitan Museum of Art, Department of Islamic Art, New York, New York	187
Scheide Library, Rare Books and Special Collections, Firestone Library, Princeton University	219

List of Locations and Accession Numbers for Known Tārshes in Europe and the United States	225
List of Works Consulted	235

Index to Qur'anic Chapters (Suras) and Verses (Āyat) Appearing in the Texts of the Amulets	241
Index	243

Plates	245
--------------	-----