

CONTENTS

1 Introduction	1
Nicoletta Mandolini and Caroline Williamson Sinalo
Part I Representation as Violence	23
2 Do the Media Make Sexual Violence ‘Congolese’? Phallo- and Ethnocentrism in the International Coverage of Dr Mukwege’s Story	25
Caroline Williamson Sinalo
3 The Case of Norma Cossetto: A Femorevisionist Issue	47
Federico Tenca Montini
4 Representing Human Trafficking as Gendered Violence: Doing Cultural Violence	69
Gillian Wylie
5 Representing the ‘Comfort Women’: Omissions and Denials in Wartime Historiographies in Japan	89
Anna-Karin Eriksson

Part II	Revealing Representations	111
6	Acid Attacks in Italy: Gender-Based Violence, Victimhood, and Media Representation Stefano Rossoni and Olga Campofreda	113
7	Diagonal Truths: The Representation of Gender Violence in True Crime Podcasts—The Case of West Cork Nicoletta Mandolini	143
8	Albinism and Gender-Based Violence in Women's Writing from Southern Africa: Meg Vandermerwe's Zebra Crossing (2013) and Petina Gappah's The Book of Memory (2015) Charlotte Baker	165
9	Transnational Feminist Interventions on Gender-Based Violence During the Bosnian War: Representational Dilemmas in Activism, Advocacy, and Art Chiara Bonfiglioli	185
Part III	Representative Re-Imagings	205
10	Representing Gender-Based Violence in Spain: Performance Protest, the #Cuéntalo Movement, and Purple Friday Andrea Hepworth	207
11	Gender, Violence, Populism and (Social) Media in Turkey Mine Gencil Bek	233
12	Mónica Mayer's 'El Tendedero' Project: Forty Years of Feminist Art Framing Gender-Based Violence in Mexico Elisa Cabrera García	255

13	Topless in La Habana: Space, Pleasure, and Visibility in Ethically Representing Gender-Based Violence	283
	Clare Geraghty
	Index	303