

The Economic Status of Australian Aborigines

JON C. ALTMAN

JOHN NIEUWENHUYSEN

Department of Economics, University of Melbourne

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

CAMBRIDGE

LONDON · NEW YORK · MELBOURNE

CONTENTS

List of Tables vii List of Maps x
Preface xiii Acknowledgements xi Abbreviations xxi

1	Inequality : an overview	1
2	Remote Australia I : government settlements and missions	22
3	Remote Australia II : pastoral stations	59
4	Remote Australia III : decentralised communities	76
5	Settled Australia I : urban and rural communities	101
6	Settled Australia II : the major urban areas	143
7	Some economic issues	174

Appendixes

i	Aborigines in the rural sector : dimensions of economic policy	199
ii	The work effort of Aborigines in remote Australia	201
iii	Food expenditure patterns in remote Australia	205
iv	Decentralised communities : a model	208

	Bibliography	211
--	---------------------	-----

	Index	221
--	--------------	-----