

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction xi

PART I. THINKING THE NETWORK

- 1 The Network as Method for Organizing the World 3
- 2 The Privatization of Social Life 19
- 3 Computers as Socializing Tools 37
- 4 Acting Inside and Outside the Network 55

PART II. UNTHINKING THE NETWORK

- 5 Strategies for Disrupting Networks 81
- 6 Proximity and Conflict 95
- 7 Collaboration and Freedom 123

PART III. INTENSIFYING THE NETWORK

- 8 The Limits of Liberation Technologies 145
- 9 The Outside of Networks as a
Method for Acting in the World 153

Notes 163

Bibliography 177

Index 189