

CONTENTS

ix	Preface
xi	Acknowledgments
1	INTRODUCTION The Politics of Participation in Ngoma Song and Dance
28	1. TURNING TO BE KISSED Praise, Flirtation, and the Work of Men
62	2. THE UNWAVERING VOICE Affect, Eloquence, and the Moral Anger of Men
94	3. FEET OF THE CENTIPEDE Military Aesthetics and the Politics of Reconciliation
124	4. TO QUELL THE DANCER'S DUST Singing Violence during South Africa's Transition
151	5. THE CROSSING World Music and Ngoma at Home
182	6. DANCING AROUND DISEASE Silence, Ambiguity, and Brotherhood
210	7. THE DIGITAL HOMESTEAD Having a Voice and the Sound of Marginalization
240	8. BROKERING THE BODY Culture, Heritage, and the Pleasure of Participation
266	CLOSING Ngoma's Masculinity, South Africa's Struggle
273	Notes
307	References
329	Index