

Contents

Introduction	I
I. Class Structure	22
I.1 Culture and Social Structure	25
I.2 How Class Structure Is Different	29
I.3 Two Models of Cultural Influence	38
I.4 The Causal Autonomy of Class Structure	41
2. Class Formation	46
2.1 Why Should Workers Resist?	49
2.2 From Universal Antagonism to Universal Resistance	58
2.3 Two Strategies of Resistance	62
2.4 Bringing Culture Back In	67
2.5 Culture Constrained	71
2.6 Back to Structure	75
3. Consent, Coercion, and Resignation	78
3.1 The Turn to Consent	81
3.2 Consent and the Reality of Class	86

Contents

3.3	The Material Basis of Consent	91
3.4	The Problem with Consent	99
3.5	From Consent to Resignation	106
3.6	The Place of Ideology	111
3.7	The New Left's Folly	114
4.	Agency, Contingency, and All That	117
4.1	A Reprise	119
4.2	Agents and Automotons	121
4.3	Too Little Contingency?	127
4.4	Too Much Contingency?	138
4.5	Contingency within Limits	142
5.	How Capitalism Endures	154
5.1	The Growth Phase of the First Left	161
5.2	From Consent to Resignation	167
5.3	The Class Matrix Today	171
	Notes	181
	Acknowledgments	193
	Index	197