

THE GLORIOUS ART OF PEACE

FROM THE ILIAD TO IRAQ

JOHN GITTINGS

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of Plates	xi
Introduction	I
1. The Perception of Peace and War	15
The language of peace and war	16
The statistics of peace and war	20
The benefits of peace and war	24
The anthropology of peace and war	29
Minoan peace? A case study	34
2. Ancient Peace: From Homer to the Warring States	39
Peace and war in the Iliad	40
Peace and war in the Chinese classics	47
Peace and war in the city-states	53
Peace and war in the Warring States	62
3. The Morality of Peace: From Jesus to the Crusades	73
Pacifism in the early Christian Church	75
St Augustine and Just War	79
Peace and war in the Middle Ages	84
Pax dei and the popular voice	88
Opposition to the Crusades	91
4. The Humanist Approach: Erasmus and Shakespeare	98
Erasmus: the peace pioneer	99
Juan Luis Vives	106
Erasmus and Machiavelli	108
Shakespeare on peace and war	109
Two problem plays	115
5. The Growth of Peace Consciousness: From the Enlightenment to The Hague	123
Peace and the Enlightenment	125
The birth of the peace societies	131
The humanitarian impulse	136
The Hague Conference and beyond	142

6. Alternatives to War: The League of Nations and Non-violence	150
High hopes for the League	154
The World Disarmament Conference	158
The Peace Ballot	161
The 'failure' of the League	164
The non-violent alternative	166
7. The Misappropriation of Peace: From the UN to the Cold War	178
The founding of the UN	180
Peace as propaganda	187
Missed opportunities	191
Obstacles to understanding	198
8. Giving Peace a Chance: From the Cold War to Iraq	204
The peace movement revival	206
Banning the bomb	210
The 1990s: the missing peace dividend	218
The 'failure' of the UN	222
Towards the Iraq War	227
Conclusion: Peace in the Twenty-First Century	232
 Notes	 244
Select Bibliography	281
Index	285