

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: Ands turn Comparative turn Trans-	xi
Part I. Recovery/Interpretation
1. "Being" Indigenous "Now": Resettling "The Indian Today" within and beyond the U.S. 1960s	3
2. Unsettling the Spirit of '76: American Indians Anticipate the U.S. Bicentennial	49
Part II. Interpretation/Recovery
3. Pictographic, Woven, Carved: Engaging N. Scott Momaday's "Carnegie, Oklahoma, 1919" through Multiple Indigenous Aesthetics	101
4. Indigenous Language: Empathy and Translation across Alphabetic, Aural, and Visual Texts	143
5. Siting Earthworks, Navigating Waka: Patterns of Indigenous Settlement in Allison Hedge Coke's Blood Run and Robert Sullivan's Star Waka	193
Notes	249
Bibliography	279
Index	295