CONTENTS

Preface Understanding Political Processes: A New Arena for Cultural Psychology ix

Introduction Societal Political Psychology in Paris xiii
Thalia Magioglou

Acknowledgments xxi

Part I: Introduction 1
Thalia Magioglou

1 Democracy as an Open-Ended Question: A Model of Lay Thinking Grounded in Two Cultural Contexts 3
Thalia Magioglou

2 Culture, Tools, and Subjectivity: The (Re)Construction of Self 27
Helen Haste

3 Othering in Political Lay Thinking: A Social Representational Approach to Social Order 49
Christian Staerklé

Concluding Remark Differently Inside: Political Psychology and Lay Thinking 75
Luca Tateo

Part II: Introduction 85
Thalia Magioglou

4 A Missing Triad: The Politics of Location, Hierarchy, and Negotiation of Knowledges 87
João Manuel de Oliveira and Lígia Amâncio

5 Women's Understanding of Modernity in Indonesia: The Search for a Cultural Platform 103
Risa Permanadeli

6 Japanese, Oriental, or Western? The Conceived Classification of Rhetoric, Debate, and Communication as Academic Subjects in the Japanese Educational System 127
Pia Moberg

Concluding Remark Reflecting on Intersubjective Approaches to Power and Knowledge in Cultural Political Psychology 141
Catarina Kinnvall

Part III: Introduction: Politics as Symbolic Power 147
Thalia Magioglou

7 Prime Minister's Wife, Minister's Disease, and Mummy Government: How Culture Affects Metaphors Used in Japanese Political Discourse 149
Ofer Feldman

8 The Study of Politics From the Perspective of Social Representations Theory 171
Maria Geka

Concluding Remark Politics as Symbolic Power 185
Thalia Magioglou

9 Power as an Object of Transcultural Studies in Societal Psychology 191
Lucy Baugnet and Arnauld Fouquet

10 Popular Culture and Political Psychology: Lessons From Asia 207
Nissim Kadosh Otmazgin

Concluding Remark Symbols as Power: Their Efficacy as Instruments and Indicators of Social Change 225
Ragini Sen

Part IV: Introduction: Methodological Issues at the Crossroads of Different Social Sciences 231
Thalia Magioglou

11 Psychological Constraints of Social Psychology and Its Actors: Political Consequences? 233
Ralph Balez

12 Movies as Method: Film Analysis and Reception Studies for Societal Political Psychology 253
Diana Gonzalez-Duclert

13 Social Identities, Societal Change, and Mental Borders: Identity Construction Strategies of Young Slovaks Commuting Between Bratislava and Vienna 285
Barbara Lášticová and Magda Petrjánošová

Concluding Remark Beyond the Politics of Method: Toward an Intersubjective Approach 313
Brady Wagoner

Part V: Conflict in Education 321
Thalia Magioglou

14 Multicultural Dimensions and Minority Status in Education: A Social Psychological Approach 323
Margarita Sánchez-Mazas

15 A Minority Education Reform in Western Thrace, Greece: Psychosocial and Political Perspectives 351
Thalia Dragonas

16 Educational Intervention Strategies in Vulnerable Populations: An Experience That Invites a Community to Dream 369
Géraldine Kerneur

Concluding Remark Culture and Politics in Education 397
Maritza Montero

Conclusion Globalization(s) for Societal Political Psychology: Worlds Where Meanings Are Negotiated and (Re)Constructed Through Power Relations 405
Thalia Magioglou

About the Contributors 421