

Contents

Introduction: How to Approach Early Christian Poetry	1
PART I. THE POETICS OF AUTHORITY IN EARLY CHRISTIAN POETRY
1. Tradition and Innovation: The Transformation of Classical Literary Genres in Christian Late Antiquity	19
2. The Test Case of Epic Poetry in Late Antiquity	37
3. Reappropriation and Disavowal: Pagan and Christian Authorities in Cassiodorus and Venantius Fortunatus	76
PART II. CHRISTIAN AUTHORITY AND POETIC SUCCESSION
4. Sex and Salvation in the Vergilian Cento of the Fourth Century	101
5. Versifying Authoritative Prose: Poetical Paraphrases of Eucherius of Lyon by Venantius Fortunatus, Walafrid Strabo, and Sigebert of Gembloux	120
6. Jesus Christ and Dionysus: Rewriting Euripides in the Byzantine Cento Christus Patiens	140
PART III. POETIC AUTHORITY IN RIVALLING CULTURAL AND THEOLOGICAL DISCOURSES
7. Culture as Curse or Blessing? Prudentius and Avitus on the Origins of Culture	161
8. Christianity as Decadence or Progress in Pseudo-Hilary's Paraphrastic Verse Summary of the History of Salvation	176
9. How Far Can Sainthood Go? St Martin of Tours in Two Hagiographical Epics of Late Antiquity	191
Conclusion: Authority as a Key to Understanding Early Christian Poetry	215
Bibliography	235
Name Index	259
Subject Index	263