

Planning for Greying Cities

Age-Friendly City Planning and Design
Research and Practice

Tzu-Yuan Stessa Chao

THE UNIVERSITY OF
KENT LIBRARY
in Kentville, Nova Scotia, Canada

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Notes on Contributors	x
1 Population Ageing in the 21st Century: Challenges and Opportunities for Planners	1
2 The Need for an Age-Friendly Environment and Rethinking of Urban Planning and Design	9
3 Scale Matters: Age-Friendly Planning as a New Urban Governance Agenda	29
4 Planning for Ageing-in-Place: International Age-Friendly Environment Case Studies	46
TZU-YUAN STESSA CHAO AND BALINT KALMAN
5 Listening to the Elders: The Case of a Bottom-Up, Context-Sensitive Place Audit in Tai Po District of Hong Kong	72
YI SUN, ANNA WONG, ANSON K. C. CHAU, MOSES WONG, AND JEAN WOO
6 Ageing and Mobility: Towards Age-Friendly Public Transport in Taiwan	89
HUI HUI LIM, OLIVER F. SHYR, AND TZU-YUAN STESSA CHAO
7 Ageing- and Walking-Friendly Communities	110

viii Contents

8 From Isolation to Inclusion: The Importance of Empowerment in Planning Age-Friendly Communities	128
TZU-YUAN STESSA CHAO AND HSIANG-LENG CHEN
9 Ageing and Disaster Resilient Communities	143
TZU-YUAN STESSA CHAO AND HUIWEN HUANG
10 Towards the Silver 21st Century: A Conclusion	164
Index	173