

Table of contents

CHAPTER 1

Introduction: Food and talk in social life 1

Susanne Mühleisen and Sofia Rüdiger

Lifestylization and the global

CHAPTER 2

How less means more in the comments section of vegan food blogs:
Exgredients such as gluten-free and extreme case formulations 15

Cornelia Gerhardt

CHAPTER 3

The moral taste of food: A discourse analysis of social media discussions about vegetarianism and veganism 35

Martina Drescher

CHAPTER 4

The local and the global in airline food 57

Markus Bieswanger

CHAPTER 5

Language in transnational communities of consumption:
Indexical functions of English in Third Wave Coffee Culture 79

Britta Schneider

CHAPTER 6

Craft beer and linguistic lifestyle emblemization 99

Theresa Heyd and Marius Eckert

Mediatization and identity

CHAPTER 7

(Un)healthy food discourses: The contradictory roles of health in food discourses and identities in the production of a TV show about food 125

Jana Declercq

CHAPTER 8

- Dinner for One: The use of language in eating shows on YouTube 145
Sofia Rüdiger

CHAPTER 9

- "Tell me about food and I tell you who you are": Expert identity in intercultural food discourse via Skype 167
Stefan Diemer and Marie-Louise Brunner

CHAPTER 10

- Formality and informality in cooking shows: Paula Deen
 and the development of a genre 189
Susanne Mühleisen

Enculturation and localization

CHAPTER 11

- A rich sauce of comedy: Talking and laughing about Italian food
 in digital spaces 211
Delia Chiaro

CHAPTER 12

- Naming practices in Singapore's hawker centres: Echoes of itineracy 235
Jakob R. E. Leimgruber

CHAPTER 13

- Naming food in English in multilingual Cameroon 257
Eric A. Anchimbe

- Index food and food names 277

- Index 281