

Contents

Introduction: Theorizing corruption across disciplines	1
1 Hermeneutical constructions of corruption in societies	23
2 Corruption as cultural bias—grid-group theory	38
3 The social nature of corruption	54
4 Cultural approaches to institutional corruption	67
5 The golden triangle: unraveling political–business corruption in Japan	79
6 Organizational culture and corruption	105
7 Conclusion	118
Bibliography	129
Index	146