

Table of Contents

Introduction	9
---------------------------	----------

Press, public opinion, constitutional transition. The thinking of the Italian liberal moderates (1814–1850)	13
--	-----------

DOMENICO MARIA BRUNI

“Wonderful in its results”. Telegraphy, news agencies and media (1830–1880)	37
---	-----------

PASQUALE CUCCO

Refashioning the newspaper: The world of Fanfulla	63
---	-----------

FEDERICO CASARI

The Louvre is Burning. False reports and “Terrorism” at the Time of the Paris Commune	87
--	-----------

MANFRED POSANI LÖWENSTEIN

New media, old fakes. Jews conspiracy plots and the nineteenth century’s waves of mediatisation	115
--	------------

IGNAZIO VECA

Editing the revolution(s). 1917 in Russia through cinema from February to October	139
--	------------

STEFANO PISU

From cooperators to enemies. The BBC, the EIAR and the birth of radio broadcasting 157
ESTER LO BIUNDO

“Go the Way of Radio”? American public broadcasting, media reform, and the federal communications commission’s hearings on educational television, 1950–51 183
DYFRIG JONES

Being digital media. From the separation to the confusion between mass media and personal media 203
DAVIDE BENNATO

Notes on contributors 221

Index 225