

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
1 Introduction	1
Göreme: an introduction	5
The wider context of tourism development in Göreme	10
Studying Göreme: the fieldworker, the field and the work	15
Structure of the book	20
2 Imaging Cappadocia: the construction of a tourist place	23
Scripting Cappadocia and Göreme	24
The 'lunar landscape'	27
Christian Göreme	29
Göreme as a cultural landscape	34
Touring Cappadocia	36
3 The tourists: in search of serendipity	43
Tourists in Göreme	44
Some tourist portraits	45
Tourists, non-tourists and the ill-fated plot	51
Avoidance of the pre-planned package tour	56
Budgeting for possibility	59
Temporal opening to possibility	61
Interacting with the authentically social	62
The search for serendipity, not touristic surrender	66
4 Continuity and change: gender and production in Göreme	69
Göreme lives	70
Göremeli/people of Göreme	75
Gender segregation: the duality in Göreme life	76
Memories of a life past: social change in Göreme	85

5	A community in competition: the business of tourism in Göreme	91
	Getting into tourism	92
	Tourism business and employment today	99
	Volcanic eruptions: competition, fights and gossip	103
	Consequences and experiences of tourism business	114
6	Close encounters: interactions between hosts and guests	118
	Packaged interaction	119
	The authentically social in Göreme village	120
	The power in hospitality	122
	Hospitality in the tourism realm	125
	Restricting hospitality	128
	Close encounters of a more 'real' kind	134
7	Romantic developments: new and changing gender relations through tourism	137
	Fun and romance	138
	Traditional gender relations	141
	Long-term relationships	143
	Caught in the middle	149
	Developing business through romance	152
	Developing romance: changing village life	156
8	The continuation of Göreme as a 'tourist site': politics of place and identity	159
	The discourse of preservation	160
	Villagers' experiences of preservation discourse	163
	The inevitability of change	166
	Emergent culture: the Flintstones of the future	169
	Experiencing the hypo-reality of Göreme	172
	The continuation of Göreme as a tourist site?	176
9	Conclusion	182
	Writing tourists into destinations	182
	Living with tourism in Göreme: a postscript	187
	Bibliography	190
	Index	208

List of Illustrations

Figures

Figure 1.1 Göreme village tourist map.	7
Figure 1.2 Map of Turkey highlighting the main route travelled by backpacker tourists.	10
Figure 2.1 Tourist map of Cappadocia showing the main tourist sites.	37

Plates

Plate 1.1 Göreme village.	6
Plate 1.2 The centre of Göreme village.	8
Plate 2.1 Miniature 'fairy chimneys' are sold at souvenir stands nearby full-size ones.	29
Plate 2.2 Byzantine frescoes in a 1,000-year-old church.	30
Plate 2.3 The coach park by the Göreme Open-Air Museum.	31
Plate 2.4 A hotel built to resemble the 'fairy chimneys' of Cappadocia.	40
Plate 2.5 The kind of vernacular accommodation that backpackers prefer to stay in.	41
Plate 3.1 Exploring in the valleys around Cappadocia.	58
Plate 3.2 Boiling pekmez (grape syrup).	64

Plate 4.1	Example of Esin's photographs.	74
Plate 4.2	Making bread to last through the winter is a full day's work, shared among a group of women.	84
Plate 5.1	A new tour agency is built.	98
Plate 6.1	'Turkish hospitality': a tea-house owner entertains tourists by playing his saz .	126
Plate 8.1	The National Park plan in action.	161
Plate 8.2	Erosion of the fairy chimneys.	169
Plate 8.3	Flintstones imagery used in Göreme's tourism.	171