

Contents

List of Plates and Tables	xi
Note on Transliteration and Translation	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
1 Knowledge and Competing Discourses in Organizations	1
JCars in Context	1
Models of the Japanese Workplace	6
The Workplace as Community	8
Discursive Formation of Community	9
Hierarchy in Action	12
Organization of This Book	13
2 Fieldwork and Methodology	17
Bodies and Knowledge	17
Tsūkin (Commute)	20
Kaisha (Company)	22
Why Study JCars?	24
Multiple Positions and Feelings	25
Friendships, Worldview, Intersubjectivity, and Ethnography	29
Techniques of Data Collection	37
Inside the Office	38
Outside the Office	42
Official Contexts	42
Casual Contexts	42
Email in Research Settings: As Method and Topic	43
Summary of Methodology	44
3 Gender Segregation and the Japanese Labor Market:
Equal Employment Opportunity Law	47
Office Workers	48
Salary Man and Office Lady	48
Gender Segregation in the Japanese Labor Market	50
Management Reforms in the 1970s: Utilizing Women's Power	53

Women's Ratio of Participation in Various Professions, 1990–2005	54
The Status of Female Workers	55
Exclusion from Employment in Large Companies	55
Equal Employment Opportunity Law (EEOL)	58
Introduction of the Career Tracking System, EEOL (1986)	59
EEOL Enacted (1997), Enforced (1999)	62
The Company, Society, and EEOL	64
Economic Downturn and Restructuring in the 1990s	66
Social and Structural Effects	66
Restructuring in the Manufacturing Sector	68
Implications of Restructuring	69
Women's Status Reconsidered	70
4 Firm Entry, Tracking System, Careers, Status Negotiation	75
Recruitment	75
The Annual Business Plan and the Recruitment Project	75
Firm Entry via Personal Connections: Quality of the Worker	76
Recruiting Female Junior College Graduates	79
Allocation to Departments: Suitability	80
Recruiting Female University Graduates via Career Track	81
Recruiting Men	81
Disabled Workers	83
The Tracking System	88
Experience of Positions in Clerical and Career Tracks	88
Restructuring: Job Equality between Clerical and Career Track—Occupational Role	92
Converting to the Career Track	95
EEOL's Effects on Women's Long-Term Career Aspirations	98
Women and Men's Talk of Male Careers	100
Personality and Appearance of New Recruits	103
Female Office Workers, Meaning, and Discourses	110
Glamor	110
Independence	111
Career Woman or Office Worker	112
Summary: Discourses of Status	113
5 Linguistic Spaces of Vertical and Horizontal Organization	117
JCar's Social Structure = Nakane's Model	117
Vertical Relations: The Tutor System	120
Job Supervision	120
Sister Tutelage	122
Dōki Groups	132
Summary: Ideals and Experience, Uniting Theory and Practice	138

6	Temporal Dimensions of Symbolic Community	145
	The Urban Commute	145
	Time, Work, Life Course	146
	Daily Regulation of Time	147
	Overtime: Cultural Meanings	148
	Loyalty of Junior Workers	150
	Western-Style Section Head	153
	Self-Maintenance and Embodiment	153
	Gift-Giving	156
	O-miyage	156
	O-chūgen and O-seibo	158
	Senpai no Ogori	159
	Organized Events	160
	Summary: Fostering a JCars Community	161
7	Spatial Practices and Hierarchy	165
	Characteristics of Hierarchy	166
	Rigid and Flexible Hierarchy	169
	Relocation	169
	Global Hierarchy	170
	Office Parties	171
	Drink and Interaction	172
	Role of Hierarchy in the Open Plan Office	172
	Efficiency	172
	Surveillance	173
	Transparency	174
	Gendered Spaces: Tea Room and Changing Room	176
	Surveillance—Slipping Away	176
	Undecided Space	179
	Tea Making	179
	Cleaning Duties	180
	Exclusivity: By Gender	181
	Exclusivity: Power among Women	181
	Smokers	183
	Refusal to Clean Desks and Ashtrays	184
	Summary: Hierarchy and the Different Production of Meanings	185
8	Spatial Practices of Mēru and Bulletin Board	189
	Installation of IT Systems	191
	Practice of Economic Diversion	194
	Mēru: A Web of Activity	197
	Romance	198
	Friendships	201

Public and Private in Spatial Practice	203
Demarcation through Embodied Practices	203
Practices of Detection: Mēru Monitoring	205
Co-Workers as “Other”	207
Seken	207
Mēru and Seken	211
The Disorderly Community	211
Intermission	215
Conclusions	217
Closing	217
Impossibility of Closure	225
Appendix	231
Appendix 1 Brief Timeline of Multisited Fieldwork	231
Appendix 2 A Graph to Show the Labor Force Participation Rate of Women by Country and Age Group, 1997	232
Appendix 3 Uranai, Fortune Telling Based on One’s Life Course	233
Glossary	235
Notes	239
Selected Bibliography	257
Index	281

Plates and Tables

Plates

1. Personnel Department, January 1998 (pre-renovation floor plan/
seating order)
2. Personnel Department, January 1999 (post-renovation floor plan/
seating order)
3. The Overseas Department, June 1998 (floor plan)
4. Seating Arrangements at an Office Party: Variations to hierarchy in different settings

Tables

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. Summary of Differences between Clerical and Career Tracks | 91 |
| 2. Official Order of Hierarchy: Status Determined by Age | 167 |