

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: Place and the Future of American Race Relations 1

CHAPTER 1. Why Place Is So Important for Race 12

CHAPTER 2. Racial Attitudes among Whites, Blacks, Latinos, and Asian Americans 37

CHAPTER 3. Neighborhood- and Metropolitan-Level Differences in Racial Attitudes 67

CHAPTER 4. Geographic Self-Sorting and Racial Attitudes 98

CHAPTER 5. Interracial Civic and Social Contact in Multiethnic America 112

CHAPTER 6. The Civic and Social Paradoxes of Neighborhood Racial Integration 133

CHAPTER 7. On Segregation and Multiculturalism 152

Appendix A: Data Sources 169

Notes 171

References 185

Index 197