

Contents

Notes on contributors	vii
Preface	x
Introduction: Historical overview Bonnie G. Smith	1
1 Battling for peace: The transformation of the women's movement in Cold War Czechoslovakia and eastern Europe Melissa Feinberg	16
2 "Democracy could go no further": Europe and women in the early United Nations Jan Lambertz	34
3 Women and social work in central and eastern Europe Darja Zaviršek	52
4 Psychoanalysts on the radio: Domestic citizenship and motherhood in postwar Britain Michal Shapira	71
5 Women as the "motor of modern life": Women's work in Europe west and east since 1945 Francisca de Haan	87

6	“What’s new” and is it good for you? Gender and consumerism in postwar Europe M. Jane Slaughter	104
7	Happy motherhood and lesbian spaces: Women’s initiative and the sexual mores of postwar Europe Cynthia Kreisel	122
8	Political participation, civil society, and gender: Lessons from the Cold War? Belinda Davis	139
9	Gender, race, and utopias of development Young-Sun Hong	156
10	Gender and reframing of World War I in Serbia during the 1980s and 1990s Melissa Bokovoy	176
11	Post-Soviet masculinities, shame, and the archives of social suffering in contemporary Lithuania Arturas Tereskinas	194
12	Post-1989 women’s activism in Poland Joanna Regulska and Magdalena Grabowska	212
	Conclusion Joanna Regulska	231
	Index	238