

CONTENTS

List of tables	xi
Introduction	1
Background to this book	2
Can globalization be reversed?	10
1 What is globalization?	16
The meaning(s) of globalization	17
Skeptics	18
Hyperglobalists	21
Transformationalists	25
The multiple and interdependent dimensions of globalization	26
Transformational theory: territory, actors, and identity	28
2 Globalization in historical perspective	40
Early respatializations	42
The ancient Mediterranean	43
Intercontinental linkages from Late Antiquity to the dawn of Europe's "Age of Discovery"	50
The Atlantic bridged, European sovereign states, empires, and global capitalism	54
From the Cold War to twenty-first-century globalization	62
Conclusion	67
3 The essentials of globalization	75
Spreading capitalism	75
Global governance	78
The triumph of democracy?	84
Global civil society	85
Cultural homogenization?	89
English as the lingua franca	91
Transgovernmental linkages and networks	93
Diffusion of global power?	94

Collective environmental degradation	96
From military to human security	97
The changing nature of military security	98
4 Globalization and information and communication technologies	109
ICT, geography, and territory	112
Skilled and participant publics	113
ICT and political participation	114
Economic implications of ICT	117
Security implications	120
ICT, globalization, and localization	123
5 The global versus the local	131
Deterritorialization and denationalization	136
Glocalization	138
The dialectical relationship between the global and the local	140
Globalizing versus localizing cultural currents	143
A world of shifting boundaries and evolving authority	145
6 The normative implications of globalization	152
Central normative issues	155
A “democratic deficit”?	155
A cut-throat world of neoliberal capitalism	157
Reactive and structural violence	161
The erosion of human rights?	162
A race to the bottom?	164
Cultural conformity or modernity?	166
Migrants, drugs, bugs, trafficking, and terrorism	167
States, war, and violence	170
Sovereignty and its discontents	171
The counter-globalization movement	172
A mixed verdict	176
7 Regional dynamics: Europe and Asia	186
Globalization and Europe	188
Western Europe	188
Post-communist Central Europe	192
Globalization and Asia	194
Southeast Asia	196
East Asia	198
Central Asia	204
South Asia	207

8 Regional dynamics: Russia, Latin America, the Middle East, and Africa	220
Globalization and the Russian Federation	221
Latin America	226
The Middle East	231
Africa	234
9 Two steps forward, one step back?	247
Anti-globalization currents	249
Nationalism and ethnicity	249
The return of the state	252
State failure	254
Opposition to immigration	256
Neomercantilism	261
Environmental nationalism	266
10 The balance sheet	277
The political dialectic	281
The cultural dialectic	282
The military dialectic	283
The economic dialectic	283
The environmental dialectic	285
Enfin	285
 Index	 291