

CONTENTS

Contributors

ix

PART I. GENERAL

1

Introduction: Marshall's Concept of Citizenship and Contemporary Welfare Reconfiguration

3

Adalbert Evers and Anne-Marie Guillemard

2

Towards a Post-Marshallian Framework for the Analysis of Social Citizenship

35

Håkan Johansson and Bjørn Hvinden

3

Changing Perspectives on Social Citizenship: A Cross-time Comparison

57

Jane Jenson

4

Citizenship in the Enabling State: The Changing Balance of Rights and Obligations

80

Neil Gilbert

5	To What Extent Can the European Union Deliver “Social Citizenship” to its Citizens?	97
	Jean-Claude Barbier

PART II. COUNTRY CASES: WESTERN EUROPE

6	Social Citizenship in New Labour’s New “Active” Welfare State: The Case of the United Kingdom	121
	Ruth Lister
7	Changes in Social Citizenship in France in a Comparative Perspective: “Activation Strategies” and Their Traces	150
	Jean-Claude Barbier
8	Italy: A Territorial and Generational Divide in Social Citizenship	173
	Valeria Fargion
9	A Fuzzy Picture: Social Citizenship in Postcorporatist Germany	198
	Ingo Bode
10	The Iron Law of Rights: Citizenship and Individual Empowerment in Modern Sweden	222
	Lars Trägårdh and Lars Svedberg

PART III. COUNTRY CASES: EASTERN EUROPE

11	The Policy of Activation in the Czech Republic and Citizenship Rights	259
	Tomáš Sirovátka
12	Fragmented Social Rights in Hungary’s Postcommunist Welfare State	283
	Julia Szalai

13	The Two Decades of Social Policy in Poland: From Protection to Activation of Citizens	305
	Marek Rymśa
14	Discourses on Social Rights in the Czech Republic	335
	Martin Potůček

PART IV. CONCLUSIONS

15	Reconfiguring Welfare and Reshaping Citizenship	359
	Adalbert Evers and Anne-Marie Guillemard
	Index	389