

Detailed chapter outline

CHAPTER 1 UNDERSTANDING ANTHROPOLOGY

The science(s) of anthropology

Physical or biological anthropology 3

Archaeology 4

Linguistic anthropology 5

Cultural anthropology 6

Traditional anthropology and beyond

The continuing evolution of cultural anthropology 8

The “anthropological perspective”

Comparative or cross-cultural study 9

Holism 10

Cultural relativism 11

Practicing anthropology

Careers in anthropology 14

Anthropology in careers 16

Summary

CHAPTER 2 UNDERSTANDING AND STUDYING CULTURE

Defining culture

Culture is learned 20

Culture is shared 22

Culture is symbolic 24

Culture is integrated 25

Culture is an adaptation 26

Culture is produced, practiced, and circulated 27

The biocultural basis of human behavior 27

1 Studying culture: method in cultural anthropology 33

Fieldwork in a globalized world: multi-sited ethnography 37

The ethics of fieldwork 37

Summary 40

CHAPTER 3 THE ORIGINS OF CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

9 What makes cultural anthropology possible – and necessary 42

Encountering the Other 45

14 The “voyages of discovery” and the rise of colonization 45

Encounters with other Eurasian civilizations 46

The “Renaissance” 47

18 The “Protestant Reformation” 47

The scientific revolution 48

19 Rethinking society: seventeenth- and eighteenth-century social theory 48

20 Toward an ethnological science in the nineteenth century 50

The twentieth century and the founding of modern anthropology 52

The anthropological crisis of the mid-twentieth century and beyond 55

Neo-evolutionism 56

Structuralism 56

Ethnoscience 57

Symbolic/interpretive anthropology 57

Marxist/critical anthropology 58

Cultural materialism 58

Feminist anthropology 58

Summary

CHAPTER 4

LANGUAGE AND SOCIAL RELATIONS

Human language as a communication system

The structure of language

Phonology 64

Morphology or semantics 66

Grammar or syntax 67

Pragmatics or sociolinguistics 69

Making society through language: language and the construction of social reality

Language as performance 70

Language and political power 72

Oral literature and specialized language styles 73

Paralanguage and non-verbal language 75

Language change, loss, and competition 76

Language acquisition and the linguistic relativity hypothesis

Summary

CHAPTER 5

CULTURAL CONSTRUCTION OF PERSONS: PERSONALITY AND GENDER

Cultures and persons, or cultural persons

Blank slates, elementary ideas, and human nature 84

The psychoanalytic influence on anthropology 85

American "culture and personality" 86

Contemporary psychological anthropology 88

Genders and persons, or gendered persons

The rise of feminist anthropology 91

Gender divisions and differences 92

The construction of masculinity 94

The construction of "alternate" genders 96

Summary

CHAPTER 6

INDIVIDUALS AND IDENTITIES: RACE AND ETHNICITY

The anthropology of race

The evolution of the race concept 103

Measuring and managing mankind 104

The modern anthropological critique of race

The anthropology of ethnicity

Ethnic culture, ethnic boundary, and ethnic mobilization 112

Types of ethnic organization and mobilization 114

Racial and ethnic groups and relations in cross-cultural perspective

The race regime of South Africa 116

Racial democracy in Brazil? 117

Mestizaje: the future of race in Mexico 119

The Burakumin of Japan 120

Summary

Seeing culture as a whole #1: the relativism of motherhood, personhood, race, and health in a Brazilian community

CHAPTER 7

ECONOMICS: HUMANS, NATURE, AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATION

Economics as the base or core of culture

The anthropology of economics

Systems of production 129

Systems of distribution 140

Consumption 144

Summary

CHAPTER 8

KINSHIP AND NON-KIN ORGANIZATION: CREATING CORPORATE GROUPS

Corporate groups: the fundamental structure of human societies

Kinship-based corporate groups

Marriage 151

Residence 157

Descent 160

Kinship terminologies 162

Non-kinship-based corporate groups

Sex or gender 165
 Age 166
 Common interest 167
 Socio-economic status or class 168

Summary 170

CHAPTER 9
 POLITICS: SOCIAL ORDER AND SOCIAL CONTROL 172

Social control: the functions of politics 173

Power 176

Authority 177
 Persuasion 177
 Coercion 178

The anthropology of political systems 179

Band 181
 Tribe 183
 Chiefdom 185
 State 186

Governmentality: power beyond the state 189

An anthropology of war 191

Summary 193

CHAPTER 10
 RELIGION: INTERACTING WITH THE NON-HUMAN WORLD 195

The problem of studying religion anthropologically 196

Defining religion 197
 Functions of religion 199

The elements of religion: superhuman entities and human specialists 200

Religious entities: beings and forces 200
 Religious specialists 205

The elements of religion: symbol, ritual, and language 210

Religious behavior: ritual 210
 Religious language: myth 212
 Religious language: prayer 213
 Religious language: specialized ritual speech 213

Religion and the everyday 214

Summary 216

Seeing culture as a whole #2: the spirits of postsocialist Mongolia 218

CHAPTER 11
 CULTURAL DYNAMICS: CONTINUITY AND CHANGE 220

The tradition of tradition 221

Cultural dynamics: the processes of cultural change 225

Innovation and diffusion 226
 Cultural loss 229
 Acculturation 231
 Genocide and ethnocide 233
 Directed change 235

Summary 237

CHAPTER 12
 COLONIALISM AND THE ORIGIN OF GLOBALIZATION 239

The culture(s) of colonialism 241

The diversity of colonialism 241
 Diverse eras, diverse agents 244

Goals and methods of colonialism 246

The legacy of colonialism 251

Depopulation 252
 Acculturation and deculturation 253
 Loss of economic independence 254
 Forced resettlement 255
 Creation of "plural societies" and mixing of cultures 255
 Introduction of race-concept and racism 256
 Environmental degradation and declining living conditions 257

Summary 259

CHAPTER 13
 POLITICAL INTEGRATION AND POLITICAL IDENTITY IN THE POST-COLONIAL WORLD 260

Politics, identity, and post-colonialism 263

The path to independence 263
 The politics of the "new states" 267

Fluid, fragmented, and fractious cultures in the modern world 269

Diasporas 271
 Ethnic groups 272

From culture to competition to conflict 274

Refugees 277

Summary 279

CHAPTER 14		CHAPTER 15
THE STRUGGLE FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE: DEVELOPMENT, MODERNIZATION, AND GLOBALIZATION	281	CULTURAL SURVIVAL, REVIVAL, AND REVITALIZATION IN A GLOBALIZED WORLD	301
Why economic dependence?	282	Voices from another world	302
The path to underdevelopment	283	From culture to cultural movement	305
Underdevelopment as a condition and a process		Syncretism	307
Development: solution and problem	289	Millenarianism	308
Development planning and projects		Irredentism	309
Development financing		Modernism/vitalism	309
The benefits – and costs – of development	294	Nativism/fundamentalism	311
The passing of the classic development model	295	The future of culture, and the culture of the future	313
Microfinance		The culture of “modernity” and after	314
Neoliberalism		The commodification of culture	315
Summary	299	Four views of the future of culture	317
		Summary	321
		Seeing culture as a whole #3: Australian Aboriginal Islam	323