

CONTENTS

Authors' Biosketches xi

Acknowledgments and Dedication xvii

Introduction, by the editors 1

PART ONE ARE IMMIGRANTS DISTINCTIVE?

1. Incorporation versus Assimilation: The Need for Conceptual Differentiation 27

S. KARTHICK RAMAKRISHNAN

2. Is Incorporation of Unauthorized Immigrants Possible? Inclusion and Contingency for Nonstatus Migrants and Legal Immigrants 43

MARIA LORENA COOK

3. Tracks of Immigrant Political Incorporation 65

CHRISTIAN JOPPKE

4. Ideas and Institutions in Immigrant Political Incorporation 82

ROBERT C. LIEBERMAN

5. Immigrant Political Incorporation: Beyond the Foreign-Born versus Native-Born Distinction 95

JANELLE WONG

PART TWO HOW BROAD IS POLITICS IN IMMIGRANT
POLITICAL INCORPORATION?

6. Dimensions of Immigrant Political Incorporation 107
JOHN MOLLENKOPF
7. Culture, Context, and the Political Incorporation of Immigrant-
Origin Groups in Europe 119
RAFAELA M. DANCYGIER
8. Structuring Immigrants' Civic-Political Incorporation into the Host
Society 137
EWA MORAWSKA
9. The Importance of Demographic and Social Contexts in Determining Political Outcomes 162
MONICA McDERMOTT
10. Thru-Ways, By-Ways, and Cul-de-Sacs of Immigrant Political
Incorporation 176
MICHAEL JONES-CORREA

PART THREE HOW SHOULD ONE APPROACH THE TOPIC OF INCORPORATION?

11. "The Great Concern of Government": Public Policy as Material and Symbolic Resources 195
IRENE BLOEMRAAD
12. The Political Economy of Immigrant Incorporation into the Welfare State 209
NOLAN McCARTY
13. Continuity and Change in the Citizenship Laws of Europe: The Impact of Public Mobilization and the Far Right 227
MARC MORJÉ HOWARD
14. Political Opportunity Structures and the Mobilization of Anti-
Immigration Actors: Modeling Effects on Immigrant Political
Incorporation 241
MICHAEL MINKENBERG
15. Behavioral and Attitudinal Components of Immigrant Political
Incorporation 254
GARY M. SEGURA

16. Assimilation and Political Attitude Trade-Offs 270
RAHSAAN MAXWELL
17. Moving Up and In: Two Dimensions of Immigrant Political
Incorporation 288
JENNIFER HOCHSCHILD
18. Acquiescence or Transformation? Divergent Paths of Political Incorporation in America 306
GARY GERSTLE

Conclusion

Rethinking Immigrant Political Incorporation: What Have We Learned, and What Next? 321
XAVIER DE SOUZA BRIGGS

Index 343