

Contents

List of illustrations	xi
Contributors	xii
Series editors' preface	xv
Note on Japanese names	xvii
Acknowledgements	xviii
 Introduction	 1
TOMOKO AOYAMA, LAURA DALES AND ROMIT DASGUPTA
 PART 1
Family and companionship	7
 1 Re-imagining the 'post-bubble' family in Tokyo Sonata and Hush!	9
ROMIT DASGUPTA
 2 Suitably single?: representations of singlehood in contemporary Japan	21
LAURA DALES
 3 Accommodating Japan's ageing sexual minorities: the 'family of friends' concept in LGBTI seniors' residential care	33
LEONIE STICKLAND
 PART 2
Old age, women and storytelling	47
 4 The girl–grandmother relation in Japanese children's literature	49
TOMOKO AOYAMA

5	Girls, old women and fairytale families in The Old Woman's Skin and Howl's Moving Castle	65
	LUCY FRASER
PART 3
	Contemporary parenting	77
6	From model to deviant: conflicting representations of parenthood in transnational families in Japan and Brazil	79
	TOMOKO NAKAMATSU
7	The role of newspapers in constructing public representations of 'monster parents'	91
	KAYOKO HASHIMOTO
PART 4
	Transnational families	105
8	Making 'traditional' families in transnational settings: Japanese women in Balinese-Japanese marriages	107
	LENG LENG THANG AND MIKA TOYOTA
9	Transnational Japanese women and family space in Western Australia	120
	SACHIKO SONE AND LENG LENG THANG
10	Reconciling migration and filial piety: accounts of Japanese lifestyle migrants in Australia	134
	JARED DENMAN
	Epilogue: the family in twenty-first-century Japan: between nation and transnation	148
	VERA MACKIE
	References	158
	Index	174