

CONTENTS

Foreword

Sylvia Barack Fishman ix

Preface

Joanna Beata Michlic xi

Jewish Families in Europe, 1939–Present: History, Representation, and Memory — An Introduction

Joanna Beata Michlic xv

PART I • PARENTHOOD AND CHILDHOOD UNDER SIEGE, 1939–1945

- 1 Parenthood in the Shadow of the Holocaust

Dalia Ofer 3

- 2 Clandestine Activities and Concealed Presence: A Case Study of Children in the Kraków Ghetto

Joanna Sliwa 26

- 3 Resistance in Everyday Life: Family Strategies, Role Reversals, and Role Sharing in the Holocaust

Lenore J. Weitzman 46

- 4 The National Institute for the Israelite Deaf-Mute in Budapest, 1938–1948: A Case Study for the Rescue Strategy of Continuously
Operating Jewish Communal Institutions

Kinga Frojimovics 67

- 5 Moving Together, Moving Alone: The Story of Boys on a Transport from Auschwitz to Buchenwald

Kenneth Waltzer 85

- 6 Life in Hiding and Beyond

Jennifer Marlow 110

PART II • AFTER THE WAR: REBUILDING SHATTERED LIVES, RECOLLECTING WARTIME EXPERIENCES

- 7 A Zionist Home: Jewish Youths and the Kibbutz Family
after the Holocaust

Avinoam Patt 131

- 8 What Does a Child Remember? Recollections of the War and the Early Postwar Period among Child Survivors from Poland

Joanna Beata Michlic 153

- 9 Memory Imprints: Testimonies as Historical Sources
Rita Horváth 173
- 10 "I Will Not Be Believed": Benjamin Tenenbaum and the Representation of the Child Survivor
Boaz Cohen and Gabriel N. Finder 196
- 11 Transcending Memory in Holocaust Survivors' Families
Uta Larkey 209
- 12 Holocaust Child Survivors, Sixty-Five Years after Liberation: From Mourning to Creativity
Eva Fogelman 233

AFTERWORD

- In Defense of Eyewitness Testimonies: Reflections of a Writer and Child Survivor of the Holocaust
Henryk Grynberg 249

List of Contributors 261

Index 265