

Anti-Jewish Violence in Poland, 1914–1920

William W. Hagen

University of California, Davis

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of Figures	page xi
List of Maps	xii
Preface	xiii
Note on the Cover Image	xxii
Guide to Polish Pronunciation	xxiii
Introduction: Culture and Psychology of the Polish-Jewish Relationship	1
Theoretical Footnote: Ethnic Violence in Social Science and Historiography	50
Part I War, Hunger, Revolt: Galicia, 1914–1918	59
1 Peacetime Precursors, Russian Invasion, and the First Wartime Pogroms, 1914–1916	61
2 West Galicia's Jews, 1917–1918: Objects of Envy, Targets of Rage	87
3 Polish Dawn, Jewish Midnight: The November 1918 Pogroms in West Galicia and Lwów	123
4 Reading the November Pogroms: Rage, Shame, Denial, Denunciation	173
Part II National Independence's After-Tremors	213
5 Jews in Russian Poland, 1914–1919: German Friends, Russian Enemies, Polish Rivals, Zionist Prophets	215
6 In National Freedom's Morning Light: Disarray in Warsaw, Social War in Galicia	246

Part III Pogroms' Path Eastward, 1919–1920	303
7 Soldierly Antisemitism, Pinsk Massacre, and Morgenthau's Mission: "Pranks," Exorcisms, Explanations, Exculpations	305
8 On Apocalypse's Edge: Army and Jews during the Polish-Soviet War, 1920	363
9 In Armageddon's Shadow: Anti-Jewish Violence in the Polish-Soviet War Zone, July–October 1920	407
10 In Eastern Anarchy's Orbit: Polish Soldiery among Cossacks and Anti-Bolshevik Warlords	462
Conclusion: Lords of Commerce and Lords of Communism, Print-Antisemitism and Popular Anti-Judaism	507
Bibliography	518
Index	536