

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Prologue: The Custom of the Country	1
Introduction	8
1 The Anti-Racist Liberal Americanism of Boasian Anthropology	28
2 Franz Boas, Miscegenation, and the White Problem	60
3 Ruth Benedict, "American" Culture, and the Color Line	90
4 Post-World War II Anthropology and the Social Life of Race and Racism	119
5 Charles Wagley, Marvin Harris, and the Comparative Study of Race	133
6 Black Studies and the Reinvention of Anthropology	163
Conclusion: Anti-Racism, Liberalism, and Anthropology in the Age of Trump	201
Notes	215
References	227
Index	251