

CONTENTS

1	Introduction	1
	Patricia R. Heck and Katherine C. Donahue
2	Old and New Nationalisms in the Brexit Borderlands of Northern Ireland	25
	Thomas M. Wilson
3	From Houses and Grandparents to Brexit: Connections Between Memory, Objects and Right-Wing Populism	53
	Ana Carolina Balthazar
4	“Dancing” with the Extreme Right: Do New Partners Bring New Dangers to Germany?	73
	Patricia R. Heck
5	Dispossession, Anger, and the Making of a Neoliberal Legitimacy Crisis	103
	Sinan Celiksu
6	In the Camp of the Saints: Right-Wing Populism in Twenty-First-Century France	117
	Katherine C. Donahue

7	Independence Day: The Emotional Tenor of Populism in Poland	143
	Marysia H. Galbraith
8	Dance Populism: The Potato Principle and the New Hungarian Dance Craze	169
	László Kürti
9	Conclusion	195
	Roberto J. González
	Index	217