

Contents

List of Figures page ix

Acknowledgments x

Introduction 1

Language: A Loaded Weapon? 1

I.1 Language as Symbolic Action 2

I.2 Definition of Terms 3

I.3 The Fundamental Paradox of Symbolic Power 7

I.4 Language as Symbolic Power in Applied Linguistics 8

I.5 Language as Symbolic Power in Language Education 11

I.6 Organization of the Book 15

Suggestions for Further Reading 16

PART I THE POWER OF SYMBOLIC REPRESENTATION

1 "I Speak, Therefore I Am" 19

What's in a Wall? 19

1.1 The Power to Signify and Categorize 23

1.2 The Power to Interpret 25

1.3 The Power to Manipulate 30

1.4 The Power to Construct Meaning 32

1.5 "Ein Tisch ist ein Tisch." Really? 36

Suggestions for Further Reading 37

2 The Power of Symbolic Representation 38

"La Raison du Plus Fort..." 38

2.1 The Reason of the More Powerful 40

2.2 From Reference to Representation: Saussure and Beyond 43

2.3 The Power of Symbolic Representation 45

2.4 Three Ways of Looking at Symbolic Representation 47

2.5 The Politics of Representation 55

Suggestions for Further Reading 57

3	Narratives of Power—The Power of Narrative	58
	“Pfui! Garstiger Struwwelpeter!”	58
3.1	A Narrative of Power: Der Struwwelpeter (1845)	59
3.2	What Struwwelpeter Is Really About	65
3.3	From The Little Engine That Could (1930) to The Cat in the Hat (1957)	68
3.4	Different Tribes, Different Scribes	70
3.5	From Moral Prescriptivism to Ethical Perspectivism	72
3.6	The Political Power of Narrative	74
	Suggestions for Further Reading	76
PART II THE POWER OF SYMBOLIC ACTION
4	“I Do Things with Words, Therefore I Am”	79
	“Will Anyone Rid Me of This Meddlesome Priest?”	79
4.1	“I Do Things with Words, Therefore I Am”	81
4.2	The Performative Structure of Communicative Practice	82
4.3	Interaction Rituals and Symbolic Power	88
4.4	The Economy of Symbolic Exchanges and the Power of Institutions	91
4.5	Communicative Practice as Symbolic Power Struggle	93
	Suggestions for Further Reading	95
5	From Symbolic Power to Symbolic Violence	97
	“I Love You” as Symbolic Violence	97
5.1	What Is Symbolic Violence? Bourdieu and Foucault	99
5.2	The Paradoxes of Symbolic Violence	102
5.3	The Perlocutionary Effect	103
5.4	An Example of Individual Violence: The Reciprocity Imperative	104
5.5	An Example of Institutional Violence: The Educational System	110
5.6	An Example of Communicative Violence: Conversational Inequalities	113
	Suggestions for Further Reading	116
6	When Symbolic Violence Turns into Symbolic Warfare	117
	“Fire and Fury Like the World Has Never Seen”	117
6.1	What Is Symbolic Warfare?	118
6.2	Symbolic Warfare and Populism	120
6.3	A Case Study of Symbolic Warfare: Donald Trump	121
6.4	Trumpian Newspeak	125
6.5	Twitter Politics	127
6.6	Resisting Symbolic Warfare	128
	Suggestions for Further Reading	131

PART III THE POWER TO CREATE SYMBOLIC REALITY
7 "I Am Seen and Talked About, Therefore I Am" 135
Harambe: The Gorilla, the Martyr, the Meme 135
7.1 From Local News to Mediatic Event to Meme 136
7.2 From a Modernist to a Late Modernist Reading via Existentialism and Social Constructivism 139
7.3 From the Disciplinary Society to the Spectacle Society 143
7.4 Harcourt's Expository Society 147
7.5 From Mediality to Documediaity 149
7.6 Virality, Community, Conviviality 150
Suggestions for Further Reading 153
8 Language as Symbolic Power in the Digital Age 154
The Facebook Me 154
8.1 Digital Media as Social Symbolic Systems 155
8.2 Social Media as Platforms for the Exercise of Symbolic Power 160
8.3 Algorithmic Control 163
8.4 A Social and Cultural Revolution 166
8.5 Post-truth and Other Disinformation in the Information Age 170
8.6 Robotics and Symbolic Power: A.I. and Google Translate 172
Suggestions for Further Reading 173
9 Engaging with Symbolic Power—Responding to Symbolic Violence 174
How Ser Ciappelletto Became Saint Ciappelletto 174
9.1 Time: The Political Promise of the Performative in Butler 176
9.2 Space: Strategies and Tactics in de Certeau 180
9.3 Time-Space: Dialogism and Addressivity in Bakhtin 184
9.4 Causality: "The Reason of Effects" in Bourdieu 188
9.5 Post-humanism in Pennycook and Latour 191
Suggestions for Further Reading 193
Conclusion 195
Language: The Measure of Our Symbolic Lives 195
C.1 Summary of the Argument 196
C.2 Implications for Applied Linguistic Research 200
C.3 Implications for Communicative Language Teaching 201
C.4 Symbolic Power in Educational Practice 203
C.5 Back to Ethics and Politics 204
C.6 "Language – The Measure of Our Lives": A Tribute to Toni Morrison 207

Glossary	212
Endnotes	217
References	238
Index	259