

Contents

Preface	ix
1 Introduction: Theoretical Implications of New Directions in Anthropological Kinship Linda Stone	1
PART ONE: Kinship in the History of Anthropology
2 Whatever Happened to Kinship Studies? Reflections of a Feminist Anthropologist Louise Lamphere	21
3 Not That Lineage Stuff: Teaching Kinship into the Twenty-First Century Caroline B. Brettell	48
PART TWO: Biology and Culture in the Study of Kinship
4 Ties That Bond: The Role of Kinship in Primate Societies Joan B. Silk	71
5 Neoevolutionary Approaches to Human Kinship Barry S. Hewlett	93
6 Schneider Revisited: Sharing and Ratification in the Construction of Kinship Kathey-Lee Galvin	109

PART THREE: Kinship and New Reproductive Technologies

- 7 Bound by Blood? New Meanings of Kinship and Individuality in Discourses of Genetic Counseling 125
Lynn Åkesson
- 8 The Threatened Sperm: Parenthood in the Age of Biomedicine 139
Susanne Lundin

PART FOUR: Kinship and Gender

- 9 Mischief on the Margins: Gender Primogeniture, and Cognatic Descent among the Maori 156
Karen Sinclair
- 10 Power, Control, and the Mother-in-Law Problem: Face-Offs in the American Nuclear Family 175
Allen S. Ehrlich
- 11 Colliding/Colluding Identities: Race, Class, and Gender in Jamaican Family Systems 185
Lisa M. Anderson-Levy
- 12 Kin and Gender in Classic Maya Society: A Case Study from Yaxchilán, Mexico 204
Cynthia Robin

PART FIVE: New Family Forms and New Formulations of "Family"

- 13 Parenting from Separate Households: A Cultural Perspective 229
David Jacobson, Joan H. Liem, and Robert S. Weiss
- 14 Open Adoption: Extending Families, Exchanging Facts 246
Judith S. Modell
- 15 In the Name of the Father: Theology, Kinship, and Charisma in an American Polygynous Community 264
William Jankowiak
- 16 Fictive Kinship in American Biomedicine 285
Richard E. Maddy

PART SIX: Kinship and the Politics of Nations

17	Going Nuclear: New Zealand Bureaucratic Fantasies of Samoan Extended Families Ilana Gershon	303
18	Women's Organizations, the Ideology of Kinship, and the State in Postindependence Mali Rosa De Jorio	322
	Index	341
	About the Contributors	354