

Contents

|   |                                                                                                                                                                                              |     |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 1 | Locating Globalizations and CulturesKevin Archer, M. Martin desman, M. Mark Amen and Ella Schmidt                                                                                 | 1   |
| 2 | The Production of Regime Culture and Instrumentalized Art in aGlobalizing StatePeter Marcuse                                                                                  | 15  |
| 3 | City Transformation and the Global Trope: Indianapolis and ClevelandDavid Wilson                                                                                                  | 29  |
| 4 | Flattening Ontologies of Globalization: The Nollywood CaseSallie A. Marston, Keith Woodward and John Paul Jones, HI                                                               | 45  |
| 5 | Global Multiculture, Flexible AcculturationJan Nederveen Pieterse                                                                                                                 | 65  |
| 6 | Cohering Culture on Calle Ocho : The Pause and Flow of LatinidadPatricia L Price                                                                                    | 81  |
| 7 | Whose Culture? Globalism, Localism, and the Expansion of Tradition:The Case of the Hñähñu of Hidalgo, Mexico and Clearwater, FloridaElla Schmidt                              | 101 |
| 8 | Hegemony /Counter-Hegemony: Imagining a New, Post-Nation-StateCartography of Culture in an Age of GlobalizationKevin Archer, M. Martin Bosnian, M. Mark Amen and Ella Schmidt | 115 |
|   | Index                                                                                                                                                                                 | 137 |