

Contents

What Makes Knowledge Governmental?	7
Knowledge Production and Migration Policy Making	9
Seeing Like a State	13
Four Features of Governmental Knowledge	17
Research Program	27
 History of Governmental Migration Research	33
Refugee Research	36
"Guest Worker" and "Foreigner" Research	43
Policy Legitimization	46
Conclusion	51
A "Lost Decade"	53
Legitimatory Knowledge	60
Conclusion	64
Instrumental Narratives and Institutional Traditions	65
 Structural Conditions of Knowledge Production	71
Paradigm Change	73
Implementation	75
Establishment of the Research Group	78
The Research Group as a Departmental Research Institution	86
Institutional Conflict and Cooperation	95
Strategic Orientation of the Research	97
Conclusion	105
 Analysis of Governmental Knowledge Production	109
Framework of Analysis	111
Quantitative Overview	111

Qualitative Analysis	120
Knowledge for Administration	124
The Migration Report	124
Practical Relevance: Legibility	133
Effects on the Knowledge: Governmentality	142
Conclusion	148
Integration Research	150
Towards a Hegemonic Understanding of Integration	151
Practical Relevance: From Migrant Assimilation to Migration Management	155
Effects on the Knowledge: Selective Blindness towards Discrimination	162
Conclusion	169
Calming Public Debate through Objective Knowledge	171
Muslim Life in Germany	172
Practical Relevance: Dispelling Myths	177
Effects on the Knowledge: The "Gaze from Nowhere"	184
Conclusion	188
Migration Potential	190
Migration Potential and Potential of Migration	191
Practical Relevance: Ex-Post Legitimization	197
Effects on the Knowledge: "Fuzzy Logic"	201
Conclusion	205
The Revenge of Practical Relevance	207
Appendix	217
Bibliography	217
List of Interviews	237