

Contents

Ralf K. Wüstenberg, Thies Münchow, Zeina M. Barakat

Introduction.....	7
I. Islam and Democracy.....	21
Mohammed S. Dajani Daoudi
Islam and Democracy – Exploring the Islamic Democratic Culture.....	23
Jan Claudius Völkel
“... But Tie Your Camel” – Islam and Democracy.....	51
Islam Jusufi
Tendencies of Backsliding and Regression in Muslim
Electoral Democracies	65
II. Islam and Islamic Law (Sharia).....	83
Loai A. Ghazawi
Introduction to Islam, with Reference to the Flexibility of Islamic Law	85
Samir Suleiman
Islam and Democracy – Between Textualism and Rationalism	99
Arhan Kardas
The Concept of Civil Islam and the Secular Democratic State	109
III. Islam and the West.....	131
Amédée Turner & Davide Tacchini
Islam and Democracy – The Voice of Western Muslims	133
Dalal Iriqat
Diplomacy for Democracy in Palestine Post-Oslo: Success or Failure?.....	149
Gerd Hankel
The Notion of Democracy in International Law.....	161

IV. Islam and the Question of Gender.....	173
Zeina M. Barakat
Women in Islam – Between Social Traditions and the Quran.....	175
Wietske De Jong-Kumru
Muslim Feminism in the Netherlands and Its Discontents –
The Case of Shirin Musa.....	197
Thies Münchow
Michel Houellebecq’s ‘Submission’ – Islam,
Democracy, and a Case of Radical Desublimation	209
Final Reflexions	223
Colin H. Williams
The Democratic Impulse and the Light of Faith – Concluding
Interpretations from a Christian Perspective	225
Qamar-ul Huda
Modernity, liberalism, democracy – Conclusion Chapter from a
Muslim Perspective	235
Authors & Editors.....	241
Further Reading on Islam and Democracy	245